COLONEL'S COHORTS MEET DEFEAT A SECOND TIME

Roosevelt Forces Lose Test Vote at Republican Convention 564 to 510—Vote on Ousting Contested Delegates—Hadley Boomed for President. —A Bitter Struggle.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 19.—The Roosevelt forces met their second defeat in the Republican National Convention today in a session which had for its outstanding feature a remarkable demonstration of nearly an hour's duration in honor of Governor Herbert S. Hadley, of Missouri.

All of the Roosevelt delegates joined in this demonstration, while some of the Taft States lent a voice. The ovation to the Missouri Governor was quickly interpreted by many of the delegates as the possible forerunner of a boom for Hadley for President. One enthusiastic Pennsylvanian jumped to the stage and called: "Three cheers for Hadley, the next President of the United States."

Governor Hadley led the fight on the convention floor today to oust 92 contested Taft delegates, and to seat 92 Roosevelt men in their places. The convention finally refused to entertain the motion by a vote of 564 to 510.

This transferred the fight to the Committee on Credentials, appointed just before the convention adjourned until tomorrow noon.

The Convention Opens

Chicago, June 19, Convention Hall.—At 10 o'clock, an hour before the opening time, less than 200 spectators were in the hall and just eight of the delegates' seats were occupied. James D. Preston, in charge of the press section in the convention hall, came in with a big bundle of mail.

"The Coliseum postmaster wanted me to help him get out the newspaper men's mail," he said. "Its all for one reporter, William Jennings Bryan."

Soon after Chairman Root had arrived on the platform he was flanked on one side by Governor Hadley, the Roosevelt leader and on the other by James Watson, of the Taft forces.

Before calling the convention to order Chairman Root and the officers of the convention posed for photographs. This helped to delay matters several minutes beyond the scheduled hour, 11 o'clock.

Chairman Root finally pounded the table with his gavel at 11:15 A. M., and ordered the sergeant-at-arms to clear the aisles.

Then pounding the table, Root announced: "The exercises—I mean the business of this day, will be opened with prayer by the Rev. Jos. Stolz."

The delegates and alternates and every person in the galleries arose and stood during the invocation.

Senator Root announced the unfinished business of the day—the motion of Watson that the convention proceed to the appointment of the regular committees and the substitute motion of Governor Hadley that the Roosevelt list of delegates be substituted for the temporary roll. He also announced the agreement as to 3 hours debate and asked if there was objection. There was not.

It had been agreed upon in advance that there should be no parliamentary points of order against the Roosevelt motion, the Taft forces agreeing to fight the matter out before the delegates.

As Governor Hadley advanced to the front of the stage to open the debate, a round of cheers from the Roosevelt forces greeted him.

When the tumult subsided Governor Hadley began an explanation of the convening of the convention. He reviewed the events of yesterday leading up to the ruling of National Committee Chairman Rosewater which quashed the Hadley motion to purge the temporary roll.

"We could have met immediately and forcibly this arbitrary and unparliamentary ruling," said Hadley, and he was roundly cheered. "We could have forcibly insisted on calling the roll on that motion and we could have forcibly taken control. Instead we chose to wait patiently until today."

Indictment of National Committee

Governor Hadley did not attempt to go into details of various contested cases, saying he would leave that to other speakers.

He read "the indictment of the National Committee as uttered by Colonel Roosevelt, in his Monday night's speech in this city and it called out a big cheer.

"It may be true that there are many persons who do not agree with us that Theodore Roosevelt should be our candidate for President, but there can be no difference of opinion that his voice today is the greatest of the Western World," said Hadley.

He then read a statement from 14 members of the National Committee protesting against the action of the majority in seating many of the delegates particularly in the California, Texas and Washington cases. It was not a question of any man's candidacy, he said, not a question of the next campaign, but embraced the very existence of the Republican party itself. In closing Hadley declared that when the vote on the substitute roll came he would contest only the votes of those delegates whose seats were not contested be allowed to ballot.

"All law precedents agree," he said, "that no man should be a judge in his own case."

The Washington Contests

Hadley was followed by W. T. Dovell, of Washington, who argued in favor of the Taft delegates seated by the National Committee from Washington.

Mr. Dovell characterized as "recklessly false" the statement cerdited to Colonel Roosevelt that an effort had been made to "steal" the Washington delegates. As one of the Taft delegates from the State he declared there was no primary law in Washington.

"The declaration is utterly false," he declared, "that the State of Washington was ever carried by Theodore Roosevelt."

Applause from the Taft delegation greeted this statement. The recital of what Mr. Dovell said were the "facts" as to Washington aroused the ire of Roosevelt delegates. He was interrupted with groans from the Roosevelt forces when he declared:

"When it was discovered the night before the State convention that the Taft forces were in control, the adherents of Mr. Roosevelt declined to come to the convention because they knew they were beaten."

When the announcement was concluded Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, was presented to speak in support of the Hadley motion.

Mr. Allen discussing the Washington cases denounced Dovell's statement as "flimsy." Allen frequently was cheered by the Roosevelt delegates and laughed at by the Taft adherents.

After being interrupted several times Allen shouted at some of the Taft tormentors:

"You haven't got anything until this convention is over. Then the Lord only knows what you've got."

"Are you going to abide by the decision of this convention?" shouted a delegate from Colorado.

"I'll answer you later."

"Answer me now."

The floor was in an uproar.

"I'll answer you, I'll answer you," shouted Allen, his face growing red and his voice growing husky. The delegates stopped yelling long enough to hear him.

"I want to support the nominee of this convention, but—"

At the "but" the cheering and jeering broke out afresh.

"I'll support him," shouted Allen, "only on the one condition, that his nomination is not accomplished by fraud and corruption."

Allen dealt with the figures of the primary held in Seattle. He said Colonel Roosevelt had got all but about 500 of the 6,000 votes cast.

A delegate asked him how many voters there were in Seattle. Allen admitted there probably were more than 100,000.

Allen denounced the methods of the Washington State leaders in the State conventions, saying the conditions were such that all Roosevelt delegates were practically barred from the hall. He denounced the National Committee as unfair and prejudiced and then took a final fling at the Credentials Committee, which as yet remained to be named.

"They ask us," he said, "why we don't wait for the Committee on Credentials to pass upon our case. I'll reply by asking you why don't you wait until your horse is stolen before you lock the door."

Speaks for Taft Forces

Allen was followed by former Senator James S. Hemenway, of Indiana, for the Taft forces.

Senator Hemenway declared that the work of the National Committee had been done fairly and regularly. "You are asked by a mere minority of the committee to overthrow the work of the majority," said Hemenway. Thirteen members of the committee have signed this protest, 39 have seated these delegates. Now they ask you to uphold that minority without seeing the evidence; without getting at the facts.

Hemenway attacked the 13 men who signed the protest.

"Why," he shouted, "would you leave this matter to a man like T. C. Dupont, of Delawre, representative of the "powder trust?"

Hemenway insisted that only 13 members of the National Committee signed the protest, although Governor Hadley said that 14 had signed it.

Taking up the Texas cases, Hemenway said that Cecil Lyon had controlled five thousand Federal appointments in Texas; that his work had been law and until this year the Republicans of the other faction had sent a delegation not of Cecil Lyon's officeholders, but of independent voters.

From the Pennsylvania delegation came a yell: "How about Penrose?"

Bending over and shaking his fist in the face of the detonation Hemenway, his face flushed, shouted: "Give me Penrose before Flinn every time."

Convention In An Uproar

The Pennsylvanians went wild. Climbing upon their chairs and brandishing their fists they yelled epithets and vituperations upon the speaker. Flinn himself took a prominent part in the demonstration.

Throughout the hall came yells and jeers and for a few moments tumult prevailed.

As the disorder continued in the Pennsylvania delegation Senator Root pointing to Flinn shouted: "If the gentleman from Pennsylvania wishes to commend his cause to the just and honest members of this convention and the American people he will cease to interfere with the delivery of a reasonable and decent argument."

Senator Root was cheered.

"We will have order in this convention, or the members responsible for disorder will suffer in the opinion of the American people, added Senator Root.

Then in the midst of a new tumult Flinn climbed upon a chair and demanded recognition.

"A point of order," he shouted.

"State it," commanded Root.

"It is the mention of personalities of Penrose and Flinn are not in order."

"The gentleman's point of order is not well taken. The gentleman will be seated at once," ruled Root.

Flinn stood defiantly for a minute and then sat down.

Senator Hemenway soon concluded and was followed by George L. Record, of New Jersey, for the Roosevelt side of the argument. He dealt with the Arizona and Indiana cases.

Record aided the Roosevelt forces in presenting their cases before the National Committee.

A double convention was held in Arizona, he said. He declared that in Cochise and Maricopa counties Taft men had been in the minority; and had then selected their own delegates to the State convention.

The recognition of these contested delegates, he said, gave the Taft forces control of the convention.

Mr. Record declared the Roosevelt forces were willing to submit their cases to the decision of a Credentials Committee, if all contested delegates both Taft and Roosevelt men, were excluded from voting on the reports of that committee.

The great crowds in the galleries became restless during Mr. Record's arguments—it was luncheon time and as the proceedings had been exceedingly tame, many of the spectators were leaving the building. Senator Root appealed again and again for quiet.

ROOSEVELT FORCES BREAK UP MEETING

Members of Credentials Committee Bolt Under Teddy's Orders.

WOULDN'T OPEN ALL EVIDENCE

Acting Under Specific Commands of Their General All Roosevelt Men Rush Out and Call for Newspaper Men

Chicago, June 19.—After bolting once from the Credentials Committee "under the orders of Colonel Roosevelt" and being called back by Roosevelt managers to the committee room, all of the Roosevelt members of the Credentials Committee except R. R. McCormick, of Chicago, left again at 11:45 o'clock tonight, declaring they were "out for good."

The cause of the bolt was the refusal of the committee to give a full hearing on all contest cases. After the Roosevelt men had left the committee took up the cases, but had not proceeded far when a motion to adjourn until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning was proposed and carried.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign manager, who had been hurriedly summoned after the first ballot, left with the Roosevelt men.

"These men are tired and will go home and go to bed," he said. "I think the other fellows are wasting time to stay here tonight."

Francis J. Heney, and Hugh T. Halbert, of Minnesota, who had led the bolt, were the only ones who would talk at length on the situation.

"Is this a bolt?" Mr. Heney was asked.

"You can call it what you want to," he said. "These are the facts: 'Every Roosevelt man with the exception of McCormick has walked out because he was convinced from the rules which were proposed that there was no intention of giving a valid hearing.

"The cases that were heard before the National Committee were a farce and this is a worse one. The line-up was perfectly plain—32 to 19."

Mr. Halbert declared the break came because the committee limited time and excluded evidence.

"We claimed and insisted that the Credentials Committee should hear all evidence, as a court of original jurisdiction; and that the National convention, not the Credentials Committee, should be the court of last resort."

Before adjournment the committee adopted the amended rules by a vote of 36 to 4.

Chairman Devine said the adjournment was taken because most of the contesting delegates had left the Coliseum.

Mr. Roosevelt addressed the bolting delegates in a room at the Congress Hotel where they had assembled after leaving the committee room.

"I am going to ask you to take a recess until I can get certain facts and lay them before you," Colonel Roosevelt said. "I earnestly counsel you not to discuss what you intend to do until you have the facts before you."

OUTLINES

The Roosevelt forces met their second defeat in the Chicago convention yesterday when on a test vote in regard to ousting 92 contested delegates they lost 564 to 510. The outstanding feature of the day's sessions was a remarkable demonstration to Governor Hadley, of Missouri, which caused many to think he will be offered as a compromise candidate. The convention adjourned at 5:50 P. M. to meet again today at 1 P. M., Eastern time.

Unexpected opposition developed yesterday to the selection of A. B. Parker as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention, W. J. Bryan and his friends coming out squarely against him.

The long expected crash in the Republican ranks came last night when the Roosevelt forces, acting under the direction of their leader, began to lay plans for independent action in the convention. Roosevelt definitely stated he would bolt the convention if the contested Taft delegates were seated.

Roosevelt members of the Credentials Committee broke through the doors last night and the meeting ended in a row. They withdrew in person and in effect all of the Roosevelt contests that had been scaled down from 92 to 78.

The credentials committee in session at Chicago adjourned until 9 A. M. today.

The Missouri delegation to the Republican convention held a caucus last night for the purpose of launching a Hadley boom for President and some of the leaders suggested the ticket be Hughes and Hadley.

PEERLESS LEADER FROWNS ON PARKER

Bryan Opposed to Judge's Selection as Temporary Chairman.

WANTS A PROGRESSIVE NAMED

Majority of Committee on Arrangements Favor Parker, But Desire to Preserve Harmony. Activity.

Baltimore, June 19.—Opposition developed unexpectedly tonight against the naming of Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, for temporary chairman of the Democratic National Convention. While a majority of the Arrangements Committee that is to select tomorrow the temporary officers of the convention were favorable to the selection of Judge Parker, it became known tonight at informal conferences of the committee members that friends of W. J. Bryan had come out against Judge Parker's selection and that a new choice might have to be made. The statement made by those opposed to Judge Parker's selection was that he was a conservative and that as this was a progressive campaign a progressive man should be named for temporary chairmanship to make the keynote speech.

Late tonight it was definitely learned that a member of the Arrangements Committee had talked with Col. Bryan at Chicago over the telephone and being made acquainted with the purpose of the committee to name Judge Parker as temporary chairman, Col. Bryan was quoted by the committeeman as replying that the Democratic party was four-fifths progressive, that a progressive man should be named and that if Judge Parker were selected as temporary chairman he would be prepared to oppose his selection on the floor of the convention.

The news of Mr. Bryan's opposition to Judge Parker, who had been put forward for temporary chairman by the New York delegation leaders was given quietly to the National committeemen and then the matter was taken up for discussion.

Some of the comitteemen urged that the plan to select Parker should be carried out, notwithstanding the opposition to him and if desired to let the selection be made an issue. At a late hour tonight it was said by two of of the members of the National Committee that Judge Parker would be named.

There were reports also that Senator Kern, of Indiana, or Ben Shively, also of Indiana, might be selected to make the keynote speech, but these reports could not be traced to authentic sources.

W. J. Bryan was said to have communicated by telephone from Chicago late this afternoon and presented his views on the temporary chairmanship. Leaders of the movement to nominate Speaker Champ Clark for President, planned to hold a meeting in Washington tonight to go over the situation and determine whether they will present a candidate for temporary chairman to the arrangements committee. The Wilson leaders were also uncertain as to whether they would urge the selection of a temporary chairman known to look with favor upon Governor Wilson for President.

A member of the arrangements committee said that while a majority of the committee was in favor of Judge Parker's selection, it could not be definitely stated tonight what the outcome would be as the committeemen felt that it was desired to maintain harmony in the matter. There were reports that the question of the temporary chairmanship might be brought before the convention for settlement.

Friends of Representative Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, became actively engaged today in seeking to bring about the nomination for President of the floor leader of the House. Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, came over from Washington and conferred with the National Committeemen here.

Clark Howell, National committeeman from Georgia, reached here today and engaged in numerous conferences. Mr. Howell believes that Oscar Underwood is the logical choice of the party for the Presidential nomination. "If Oscar Underwood came from any State north of the Ohio river," said Mr. Howell, to his associate committeemen, "he would be nominated unanimously. The floor leadership of Underwood has done more than anything else to bring the Democratic party together. He is the logical man to nominate. The time has come when the logical man for the Presidential nomination should be selected, no matter what part of the country he comes from. The day of sectionalism has passed."

It was generally reported here tonight that William J. Bryan would be made the chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. Just what part Mr. Bryan plans to take in the convention with respect to the selection of the standard bearer, and the building of the party platform, has not been made known. Mr. Bryan is expected here Sunday.

T. R. IS READY TO BOLT CONVENTION

Colonel Declares He Will Hold One of His Own if Contested Delegates Are Seated and Plans to That End—Double-Header in Same Hall.

TEDDY IS THROUGH

Chicago, June 20.—"So far as I am concerned," declared Colonel Roosevelt to his delegates and advisers in an address this morning, "I am through. If you are voted down I hope you, the real and lawful majority of the convention, will organize as such and you will do it if you have the courage and loyalty of your convictions."

Chicago, June 19.—The long expected crash in the Republican ranks came tonight. The Roosevelt forces acting they said, under the personal direction of the colonel himself, began to lay their plans for independent action in the National Republican Convention. As a forerunner of the more drastic action expected in the convention tomorrow or Friday, the Roosevelt members of the committee on credentials withdrew from that body tonight—withdrew in person and in effect, withdrew all of the Roosevelt contests, which had been scaled down from 92 to 78.

Col. Roosevelt tonight was in the midst of a series of exciting conferences and was busy figuring on the local delegates whom he could expect to carry with him out of the convention or rather, into a separate convention on the convention floor in event the crisis is reached.

People who talked with the colonel tonight declared there was no longer any doubt as to his attitude. Convinced that the credentials committee was against him and would retain the contested Taft delegates in their seats, Col. Roosevelt decided to go no further with his futile fight in the regular convention.

The colonel would not issue a formal statement as to his warlike intentions early in the evening, but was said to have made his position clear to his followers.

Some of the conferences at his headquarters were exciting. Senator Borah, of Idaho, it was reported, declared as he left the Roosevelt rooms that he would not bolt.

The Missouri delegation in the convention held a caucus tonight for the purpose, it was reported, of formally launching a boom for Governor Hadley for President. The remarkable demonstration given the Missouri executive in the convention today, together with the sudden turn in affairs was said to have strengthened their belief that the time was ripe for bringing forward a compromise candidate.

In the meantime there was much talk of Justice Charles E. Hughes, of New York, as the candidate of the convention. Some of the leaders ventured to suggest a ticket of Hughes and Hadley.

All sorts of wild rumors were current as the crash came.

The fact that the Taft forces strengthened their hold on the convention in the test vote today, getting 564 votes as against 558 on yesterday, threw the opposition forces into something of a panic. The Roosevelt vote in the convention today was 510, but it was realized that 26 votes from Wisconsin, ten from Iowa, and ten from North Dakota must be deducted from that on a Presidential ballot, while but few of the Taft votes could be gained.

The Taft people were exultant tonight. They denied intimations from the Roosevelt side that they were considering a compromise candidate and asserted that with a tightening of the lines it was apparent that President Taft would win the nomination on the first ballot with something to spare.

Senator Dixon declared tonight that one final appeal might be made to the membership of the convention. "We shall have exhausted then every legal and moral duty devolving upon us. The future will have to take care of itself."

The Taft forces tonight said they were prepared for an attempt by the Roosevelt people to hold a convention within the convention hall and had taken steps to prevent "any such disorder."

It was said that 500 policemen and 800 assistant sergeants at arms would be stationed in the convention hall to prevent disorder and would do so at any cost.

It was said some of the Roosevelt leaders would plead with the convention tomorrow to instruct the credentials committee to grant more time for a hearing of the contests.

Col. Roosevelt, it was said, would be present in the convention hall at the time and that while he would have no legal standing in the convention he might be swept into the fight by his followers.

Col. Roosevelt counseled delay at a conference of his supporters just before midnight. He asked them to adjourn until later in the night, when he would have more facts to lay before them.

Colonel Roosevelt's view of his position is known to be that on an independent ticket, he might have a fighting chance to win, at the same time realizing that he is inviting personal disaster. He believes, however, that it would be a fight worth making and that it would be better for him to go down to defeat with colors flying than to submit to being overruled by the aid of votes which he has said would be fraudulent. The former President is said to be of the opinion that he could take with him the support of the majority of the Republicans southside of the extreme Eastern States and increase his strength by substantial accessions from the Democratic party.

Some of the Roosevelt delegates were said to be already taugging at the lash. The California and Pennsylvania delegations, according to the reports in the Roosevelt camp, were in favor of a break yesterday afternoon when Colonel Roosevelt met with his first reverse. It was deemed wiser to await the convention's final ruling upon contested delegates before taking definite action. While it was said that Roosevelt supporters might not break away in case some of the less conspicuous groups of contested delegates were seated, a final vote in favor of the contested delegates against which Colonel Roosevelt's vigorous protests have been voiced is to be made a final issue. The ex-President, while hoping that the break will not come, is said to be far from unwilling to head the independent movement should the occasion, in his judgment, require such action.

The Hadley boom which crystalized intoday's demonstration in the convention was said by supporters of Colonel Roosevelt to have been launched by those of his opponents who desire to defeat him at all costs and are willing to desert President Taft if necessary to accomplish this end. Colonel Roosevelt's only comment in regard to Governor Hadley was made when he heard of the demonstration for the Governor at the convention.

"I am delighted," said he. "No demonstrations could be too high a tribute to Governor Hadley."

It was reported by adherents of the ex-President that certain of his opponents who fear that President Taft cannot be nominated had begun last night to sound the sentiment of Roosevelt delegates as to whether they would support Hadley in case the Taft strength was shifted to the Governor. Delegates from Iowa, Missouri and Wisconsin were said to have been approached in this way. The chief drawback to this plan, it was said, was the fear of its promoters that in case an attempt was made to transfer Taft votes to Hadley enough delegates would slip away to Colonel Roosevelt to give him the nomination. Taft leaders, according to the gossip which was heard tonight, went to Governor Hadley several months ago to dissuade him from casting his lot with Colonel Roosevelt by intimating that he was the administration's choice for Vice President. Governor Hadley, it was said, declined.

At Taft headquarters a general atmosphere of satisfaction and relief greeted the swarms of delegates who crowded the ante-rooms tonight. Director McKinley and his staff presented an its-all-over-but-the-shouting attitude and confidently asserted that today's vote of 564 to 510 against the Roosevelt forces in the convention showed conclusively that Taft would be renominated. They claimed that Roosevelt would lose on the nomination roll call 46 of the 510 votes he had today. They declared that Wisconsin's 26 votes, South Dakota's ten and the ten Cummins votes from Iowa would desert the Roosevelt column on any decisive vote.

From this they argued that the real strength of the convention was at the most 464 votes.

"President Taft's renomination is a certainty," said Director McKinley.

Each succeeding roll call from now on will show steady losses from the Roosevelt column and gains for Taft.

A statement was issued by McKinley tonight in which he said:

"President Taft will be renominated by the National Republican Convention now in session in Chicago.

"Theodore Roosevelt has been eliminated as a candidate before the convention. Two test votes, one yesterday and another, forced by his leaders today, have demonstrated that he cannot be nominated. The delegates have repudiated his third term pretensions."

The Taft leaders, while outwardly ridiculing talk of a Roosevelt bolt, privately admitted that the colonel, when it becomes apparent tomorrow, as they say it will, that the Credentials Committee will not interfere materially with the Taft delegates seated by the National Committee, will undoubtedly order his followers out of the convention. But the Taft leaders declare that the real Roosevelt leaders will under no circumstances go to the extent of holding a rump convention to give Roosevelt an independent nomination.

SOUTHERN REPRESENTATION

Will Be Taken Up By Republican Convention Today

Chicago, June 19.—With the submission of a minority report tonight signed by 11 members of the Rules Committee the question of reducing Southern representation in Republican National conventions will be put squarely up before the committee tomorrow. The announcement was made at midnight by W. H. Coleman, the member from Pennsylvania, whose resolution providing for such reduction had been tabled early in the evening by the committee.

Springfield, Mass., June 19.—During the absence of her husband, today, Mrs. Clara B. Cross took three of her six children into a darkened room and turned on the gas. When the husband returned all were dead. Three other children were playing in another room and knew nothing of the tragedy.

Cambridge, Mass., June 19.—Topping yesterday's 9 to 6 victory at New Haven with a win today over Harvard on Soldier's Field by a score of 5 to 2, Yale won the 1912 baseball series from the Crimson in straight games. Today's game was cleanly played before a large class crowd.

Norfolk, Va., June 19.—The British steamer Wyvisbrook is ashore near False Cape, on the Virginia coast, and the revenue cutter Onondaga has gone to her assistance. The Wyvisbrook ran aground during a storm today, but is said to be in no immediate danger.

Richmond, Va., June 14.—William Price and John Furby, negroes, were electrocuted here today for the murder several months ago of A. T. Belcher, a guard of the State road building camp, in Chesterfield county. Three negroes attacked Belcher, and he killed one.

To Whom It May Concern.

It was the new janitor in the apartment house where the Browns live who tacked up the following subtle notice inside the dumbwaiter. It was hand painted, every S being a capital and carefully turned backward: "You must not put nothing on the dum water you can put bottles on win I call for the gabbig I know who put it on."

Those Were Happy Days.

A well-known Bostonian recently found in his trunk an old diary with the entry: "August 10, 1887. Went to the railroad station to see my sister off, and by some chance Harry Blank was there to see his sister off, and in the rush and noise and confusion we got mixed and I hugged his sister and he hugged mine."—Boston Transcript.

Philadelphia, June 19.—Washington's winning streak of 17 straight games was broken here today when the home team won a double header. Philadelphia captured the first game in 10 innings 2 to 1, and the second by a ninth inning rally 4 to 3. In the opening contest Washington led by 1 to 0 until two were out in the ninth. With two strikes on him Baker tied the score with a home run over the right field fence. In the 10th inning Barry scored from first base on a long single by Lapp. Baker's double, Strunk's sacrifice and McInnis' single won the second game.

Luck of a Windfall.

The harsh forest laws of William the Conqueror are responsible for the meaning of good luck now so often associated with the term windfall. Under the Norman it was a criminal offense to cut down timber in the forests; but as the peasants were allowed to gather whatever wood the wind had blown down they always hailed a storm as an omen of good luck.

Professional Bomb Throwers.

The Chinese corps of trained bomb throwers reminds us that our own regiment of Grenadier guards takes its name from the grenades or small bombs which in early days they hurled at the enemy in an assault. And this primitive duty is also commemorated in a flaming grenade embroidered on the collars of their tunics.—London Chronicle.

Not Exciting.

Mrs. Stirling used to tell how, during a brief holiday to somewhere on the Clyde, being kept indoors by three wet days, Stirling read the Greek Testament continuously aloud to her, first in Greek and then in English. She was a truly religious woman, but she owned to being glad when the rain ceased.—Life of James H. Stirling.

Doubly Blessed.

The mother of little Helen was one of twins. As the twin sisters lived quite a way apart, Helen did not see her aunt until she was about two years old. On first seeing her she was greatly puzzled over the resemblance of her mother and aunt, and after looking bewilderedly from one to the other finally exclaimed, "More mamma."

Made in Presence of Customer.

An enterprising Chicago dairyman has recently added to his list of electricity-driven appliance a one and one-half horsepower motor for driving a churn. His patrons buy cream of him, and for a small charge have it made into butter on the spot. The method is not only an excellent advertisement for the tradesman, but is also instructive for the children and others in the neighborhood.

Evidently a Diplomat.

A courtier taking leave of Louis XIV., who was sending him as an ambassador to a foreign court, was told by the king: "My most important instruction for you is to pursue a policy entirely different from that of your predecessor." "Sire," said the diplomatist, "I will endeavor to do so, that your majesty may not repeat the advice to my successor."

On Sanity's Border Line.

Experts can hardly define the thin line that separates the insane from the sane. There is a twilight of the mind in which many people buy and sell, love and divorce, marry and give in marriage and live and die. At no time in their lives are they really insane more than a few moments at a time and yet they live in a world that is jangled, out of tune and different from that all around them.

Convict Makes Odd Request.

A convict in the Auburn, N. Y., prison who has 13 years yet to serve, asked the warden for a time table. In reply to the warden's question as to why he wanted it, he said that he might be able to identify the trains as they pass through the station, and know what train to take when his time is up.

Even In Those Days.

The children stood in awe before one of the museum mummies. At last the elder whispered to her father, "Why is the old woman wrapped up in bandages? Did she die of an accident?" Before he could reply the younger girl said, "Oh, yes! She must have been run over by a motor car. There's the number—'B. C. 1461.'"

How to Get a Change.

When it is impossible to move a convalescent into different surroundings for the sake of a change, move the furniture and pictures of the room into different places. An invalid often tires of seeing the same pictures and ornaments in the same places week after week. Change the position of the furnishings, and it will seem almost like moving into another room.

Prepare for the Future.

If ever there was a time in the history of this country when getting-ready should be the order of the day, that time is "right now." Cleverness to see things ahead and diligence to get in line for what common sense tells us is surely coming are the foundation assets of 98 out of every 100 successful business men. — Robert Brown.

In Desperate Mood.

"That prima donna has a voice like an angel's." "You think so," responded the impresario, resentfully. "Well, I don't know how an angel talks when things don't go to suit her. But if I thought they all sounded like this prima donna, I'd think twice before wanting to go to heaven."

Convert Gives Up Burglar Tools.

Converted by the Salvation army, a burglar stood before the congregation at the hall in Spokane, Wash., and drew forth two revolvers, an electric flash, a jimmy and other parts of a burglar's outfit. He said that he had intended to rob some stores, because he was hungry, until he heard their music.

Acquired Significance.

"You disapprove of my theory," said the excited agitator. "Therefore you refuse to attach any importance to it." "Of course," replied Senator Sorghum, "why should I? The only importance most unpleasant theories have is what thoughtless people rush in and attach to them."

Clocks Worked by Air.

Fans actuated by currents of air have from time to time been used as motors for running clocks. One, by Lepaute, is in the Louvre, Paris. Benjamin Hanks of Litchfield county, Connecticut, patented one in 1783. In a more recent patent the weight is wound up by the current of air in a chimney which is stopped by a self-acting brake as the weight nears the top of its course.

PRAISE FOR WILMINGTON

Dr. W. S. Rankin, Secretary of State Board of Health, Pays Compliment to Dr. Nesbitt and His Methods.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Hendersonville, N. C., June 18.—At the annual meeting of public health officers from all parts of the State, at Hendersonville Monday, the city of Wilmington received considerable attention. Dr. Charles T. Nesbitt, the city health officer of Wimington, was on the programme, but was unable to be present. General regret was expressed because of his absence for it was anticipated that he would have some very interesting material to lay before the meeting.

In discussing the question of the best methods of interest to the public in health matters, Dr. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, gave a very brief review of the Wilmington situation a year ago and the improvements that had taken place. He spoke of the opposition to Dr. Nesbitt a year ago, the policies he had followed, the victories he had won, the change of sentiment to his support on the part of the intelligent element of the population and the great improvement in the conditions of the city.

What Dr. Rankin said about Wilmington's advance in health matters is one of the highest compliments the city has received for some time and Dr. Nesbitt was referred to by the secretary as "a health officer who had undoubtedly made good in a most determined, straightforward and intelligent way."

The Wilmington plan of having local health officers furnish disinfectants and cans and linens in cases or suspected cases of typhoid fever was highly spoken of as was also the Wilmington plan of keeping a sanitary, medical and death record of houses so that persons who wished to rent or purchase a house could obtain trustworthy information as to the health conditions of properties under consideration.

Several health officers present stated that they would immediately follow Wilmington's example, especially in regard to disinfectants and cans for typhoid cases.

BEARS DO DAMAGE.

Many Seen in Lenoir County—Shortage of Ice in Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 19.—Bears continue their depredations in the farming sections south of here, driven from the swamps by the recent droughts to seek water in the higher lands, and in many places have become a menace to stock and crops. Yesterday a 223-pound animal was shot five miles south of here, near a spot in which several had been seen. John Cobb, a farm tenant, discovered the bear in his tobacco field, and he, together with neighboring farmers, attacked bruin. The animal was shot three times, a well-directed shot by Harry Nunn, the 11-year-old son of Sheriff Nunn, finally dispatching it. The big beast was brought here. Young Nunn was proud of his kill, and local butchers disposed of the choice portions of the carcass at good prices. Bears are frequently met with in the fields and on the roads now, and several have been killed in Onslow and Jones counties. They usually show fight and have made interesting adventures for zealous hunters on two or three occasions recently.

This morning nearly a thousand people went on an excursion to Morehead City conducted by the Christian and Methodist Sunday Schools. The train was one of the longest passenger trains ever operated over the local division of the Norfolk Southern. Nearly al of the excursionists were from Kinston.

Kinston is depending upon supplies from other towns to prevent an ice famine at present, and will continue to do so probably for several days. A big machine at the plant of the Lenoir company here is out of commission, and neighboring cities were called upon for help while the repairs are being made. The breakdown caused no apparent inconvenience, with large supplies coming in by train to meet the unusual demand caused by the severely hot weather for three days past.

ADDRESS BY GOV. KITCHIN

Before State Medical Society—Visitors Having Nice Time

(Special Star Telegram.)

Hendersonville, N. C., June 19.—The meeting of the State Medical Society today was featured by the address of Gov. Kitchin, and the social side of the convention. A number of papers were read by various physicians this morning, following the address of Gov. Kitchin this afternoon on "The Obligation of Citizens to Public Health." Those attending the medical meeting were given automobile drives to places of interest near the city. A bridge party was given this afternoon in honor of the ladies attending the meetings with members of their families.

The physicians are enjoying a luncheon and smoker tonight. Tomorrow is the last day of the meeting.

PACE-SKINNER

Marriage of Popular Young Couple of Raleigh

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—At 7:30 o'clock last night in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Miss Elizabeth Piedmont Skinner, daughter of Mr. B. S. Skinner, became the bride of Mr. William H. Pace, prominent young lawyer of this city. The church was thronged with people, the marriage being of very great social interest. Dr. I. McK. Pottinger, the rector, officiated. Mrs. H. H. Dalton, sister of the bride, was dame of honor and Mr. Jno. H. Boushall was best man and Miss Elizabeth Massey flower girl. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. B. S. Skinner. The ushers were Messrs. J. Leigh Skinner, Walters Durham; E. W. Timberlake and Francis Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Pace have gone for a bridal trip.

Greenville, Ga., June 14.—W. O. Evans and his son, Oscar, were shot and killed near this place today by W. O. Walton, a nephew of the elder Evans. Walton then surrendered to the sheriff. The shooting is said to have been the result of a renewal of a former quarrel between the two families over straying hogs.

MERCHANTS ON LEGISLATION

Want Relief as to Freight Rate Discrimination and to Improve Credit Conditions—Other Raleigh News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 19.—The morning session of the North Carolina Merchants' Association was devoted principally to the hearing and considering the annual reports of President E. E. Broughton, and Secretary E. L. Harris. President Broughton urged that an effort to secure legislation at the hands of the 1913 General Assembly a few of the most important bills be selected and effort centered on them rather than putting in bills for a big variety of remedies with scattered effort as in the past. Some of the most pressing needs in the way of legislative relief were pointed out to be remedial legislation as to freight rate discriminations and legislation to improve the credit conditions in this State. He appealed for development of the working efficiency of the local associations and insisted that steps be taken to prevent the stronger associations from having to support the weaker ones in this State, and for getting all associations on self sustaining basis. There are 55 local associations in good standing as members of the State association.

Secretary E. L. Harris declared the time at hand when the merchants must realize the importance and necessity of co-operation and when they must set themselves to the task of impressing on the whole people of the State that they are banded together for the furtherance of the best interests of the whole people and that the reforms they are demanding are for the good of the whole State.

He recommended that the membership of the State association be divided into three classes according to a rating to be fixed for the classes of cities and towns. The report showed great activity in new membership, although no new associations were formed.

Governor Kitchin has gone to Hendersonville to deliver an address for the North Carolina Medical Society today. He will return to the city tomorrow.

The North Carolina Corporation Commission issued a call today for reports of the condition of State, private and savings banks at the close of business June 14th. There are 374 banks of the three classes to report to the commission.

State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt has just gotten out a new and very complete map of North Carolina that is based on the base map of the United States Geological Board prepared in co-operation with the North Carolina board. Competent judges pronounce the map a very excellent one and it is constructed on a scale that is ample for office and other uses.

The charter of the Covington-Hammond Co., Laurinburg, is amended, changing the name to the Hammond Co. W. G. Buie is president.

The Brown Bros. Lumber Co., of Murchison, Yancey county, is chartered with $400,000 capital by D. F. Brown and others.

Thomas Hart, aged 83 years, died at his home in Smithfield last night. He was a native of Wake county and 20 years ago answered an advertisement of a widow in Johnston county, who wanted a superintendent for her farm. He went to take charge of the farm and later married the widow. She survives him. Both were 60-odd years old when married.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the
WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Thursday, June 20, 1912.

The big stick of the party has little showing against the brains of the party.

Probably what is going to happen at Chicago is not at all flattering to the presence of ex-President Roosevelt.

No doubt many men have practiced on speeches which they hope to make at the National Democratic convention in Baltimore next week.

Since Woodrow Wilson has loomed us as a great national figure, it would be folly for the Baltimore convention to consider any mere cipher.

The South has left no doubt that it is back in the Nation. It has furnished three out of the four of the Democratic candidates for President.

The Chicago convention is no place for a mollycoddle. The intense excitement there is immensely relished by the Colonel. He said: "By George, it's bully to be here."

President Taft vetoed the act of Congress which trimmed Gen. Leonard Wood, but he will sign up on everything done at Chicago to reduce Colonel Roosevelt to the ranks.

Two woman delegates were elected to the National Republican convention at Chicago, but one of them is ill and could not stand. The other one probably is sick of the whole mess by this time.

If somebody doesn't start something at Baltimore next Tuesday, the Democracy will be able to show the country that it can have a convention national in scope and dignified in proportion.

The Hon. William J. Bryan is acting as reporter for the New York World at the Chicago convention. It is hoped he will tell us who led the procession when it began to kick Roosevelt's hat around the ring.

Did you ever go into a coop, not your own, of course, and get covered with chicken lice? Not a very pleasant experience and they trouble the chicks just as much as they do a person. Not much show for good results when birds are bothered in this way.

The Hon. Ormsby McHarg failed to add to his reputation by the manner in which he got up or handled the Roosevelt contests. At the same time, it must be admitted that his chances were slim. He was called upon to do the work of a pattifogger for a Rough Rider.

Senator Heyburn demands to know "what flies above the American flag?" Of course, the clouds and the aviators fly above the flag, but since they cannot be called down for that, we should say that the Senator should confine himself to seeing that there are no flies on the flag.

The Republicans have used lots of money to fight each other but they can raise twice as much to fight the Democrats in November. Interests specially served by the Republican party furnish the money because it is an investment from which they get a big return in tariff favors dug out of the pockets of the masses.

Even the name of William Randolph Hearst as a dark horse is getting mentioned as the date for the Baltimore convention approaches. If Hearst had remained in the Democratic party and bided his time, instead of organizing an independent party to fight the Democracy, he might have fared better. He has come back to the Democratic party, but too recently for his name to be seriously considered by a National Democratic convention.

PROFESSIONS TOO FEW.

The Hon. James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture for the United States, deplores the fact that too many young men are adopting the learned professioss, and he takes occasion to point out the evil effects upon agriculture. "The fields are crying aloud for trained men," the Secretary emphasizes, "while thousands of young men are graduating from our law schools and there are jobs for only a small percentage of them." He blames it on the lure of the law and urges that the matter should be taken up by our educators at their National meetings. The Washington Post adds this word of concurrence:

"Sesretary Wilson's contention that our schools are turning out too many lawyers for the good of the profession and all concerned, will meet with no quicker acknowledgment in any quarter than from the legal fraternity itself. Already notoriously overcrowded, the ranks are being recruited in constantly increasing numbers, resulting in a state of things not unlike that which would accompany an annual irruption of aliens into an overpopulated country. Perhaps the worst feature of the matter is the lessening of the rewards of the profession through wider distribution into so many more hands, a condition that tends to make drones or nonsupporters of many of the most shining and ambitious among the youth of the generation."

If the schools were turning out lawyers, it would be different, but we must infer from Secretary Wilson's lamentation that he thinks the schools are spoiling entirely too many farm hands to the detriment of agricuture.

The choice of professions and avocations must be left to the young men of the country themselves. The fittest survive in the professions, and out of the great mass of graduates in law there will come the great lawyers and judges of the near future. Probably the great majority who take to the law will not succeed at the bar, but it is for every young man to make his own place when he "hangs out his shingle" and undertakes the serious duties of life.

The educational institutions are to blame for the fact that ambitious young men want to take law and medical courses. They do so because of the fact that the professional and technical courses are too limited. There are not enough professional and technical courses in our colleges, hence we find them making a specialty of law and medicine. Why not establish professional courses in agriculture, chemistry, and numerous other branches of knowledge and skill? There is plenty of room and reputation for the professional farmer, the agricultural scientist, the professional botanist with his knowledge of plant life, and for young men coursed and trained in the higher technical branches. Broaden the professional field for the young men and they will adapt themselves to their liking and interest.

The main object for educated young men should be a desire to succeed in life. Broaden the field for gaining reputations, fame and fortune so young men can have many professions to choose from. At present only a few are offered to them and they all want to adopt those few. Why not have a strictly universaity course in agriculture? A man who knows the science of farming, combining botany, chemistry, geology and agronomy, has in him the making of a name and fortune.

Ignorance is the cause of our floundering in mediocrity in the professional, technical and agricultural fields. Make the courses more thorough and we will have less failures by young men who get only a smattering of what they should know. Let us have a number of thoroughly learned agriculturists. The country needs men with agricultural knowledge, theory and practice. They need not work in the cotton field. They can work in the broad field which calls for lessons, instruction and demonstration in all kinds of farming.

SENATOR ROOT'S KEYNOTE.

Whether Taft is nominated at Chicago or not, his plans were so carried out that the National Republican convention was organized under established parliamentary rules and set to work in accordance with precedent. Roosevelt revolution and disorganization failed at the beginning and it is taken as an augury that Taft's nomination will follow as a logical sequence.

Through the masterfulness and adroitness of the Taft leaders the Republican convention was not like the assembling of a mob. It set about its work in order, amid turbuent surroundings, and credit must be given to the organizers for putting forth the brains of the party to sound the keynote of Republicanism in accordance with its ancient tenets and doctrines. Senator Root was selected to perform so important a function as to outline what the Republican party stands for till its policies and doctrines mayhaps are revolutionized by Theodore Roosevelt.

We were interested in seeing what declaration the party would make at this time, and we observe that so far as Taft's leadership is spoken for by Senator Root, the traditions of the past are clung to. In contrast with them we would like to see a keynote to the Roosevelt interpretation of the party's fundamentals as he may reconstruct them. We have our doubts, however, that any man on earth can deliver a keynote for him, and more's the pity since the Colonel himself has never stated his aims in a way that makes them capable of analysis. As a matter of fact, we have absolutely failed to see the whyforeness of Roosevelt or the whyforeness of Rooseveltism. Certain it is that some of his declarations have nothing in common with the Republican party.

Senator Root took a sly dig at the "Free Silver Democratic party," but he was constrained to dig into the past because misery loves company. However, the faults of the Democratic party are buried while those of the Republican party have come forth to haunt it and hound it to defeat. There is very little lacking in boldness in the decaration which Senator Root makes as the interpretation of Republicanism as it is conceived by President Taft. It adheres to ancient lines, tariff and all, the only reservation being that tariff making be left to a commission instead of Congress. The doctrine of protection simply is proclaimed anew under the guiding and safe hand of a tariff board. That is about all, and it still constitutes the main difference between the Republican and Democratic parties of yore.

According to the Root keynote, the Republican party simply proposes to dodge behind a tariff board as to the making of a tariff, just as if any sane man would again trust that party to handle a question upon which it has deceived the public in the past and is now attempting further deception under a somewhat different guise, the principle and motive being a mere matter of difference without a distinction.

THE GAME OF THE "UNINSTRUCTED"

New York's uninstructed delegation at Baltimore expects to combine with the delegation of Indiana to bring about a situation calling for a dark horse for the Democratic nomination for President. New York's delegation is in the hands of politicians who are playing for the rejection of any or all of the strong men from whom the convention might make a nomination. As usual, the New York politicians are playing the game for New York without regard to whether it can win for the Democracy.

It is said New York and Indiana will hold the balance of power at Baltimore. An attempt is being made by that uninstructed delegation to defeat the will of all the other States. The delegation was not instructed for the very reason that it wanted to play a game of its own in the National convention. Those who favor uninstructed delegations at the hands of the people can now see how such a delegation, and others like it, can combine and destroy the chances of the party to win.

The nomination of a dark horse, such as New Yorkers want, would mean to offer to the people a man of whom nothing is known. To nominate an unknown man would require strong campaigning so the people could understand whom they are supporting. All his vulnerable points would appear only after he had been nominated and then it would be too late to remedy the mistake.

Uninstructed delegations land at a National convention to be pulled around by just such a bunch of politicians as those New Yorkers, or to get carried off their feet by a brand of oratory that gives them no time to think soberly and seriously.

CITY COUNCIL: WHY EXPENSES GREATER THAN CHARLOTTE?

Editor the Morning Star:

It seems that correspondents of Raleigh papers take an entirely different view from the majority of the people of Wilmington in regard to our commission form of government. Nine-tenths of our citizens are neither satisfied nor pleased with our city government, and at the rate we are going another year will find our city practically bankrupt. We have for the coming year a budget of $268,000, while Charlotte, with a population of 34,000 has just fixed the budget at $241,000. Now here is something for our people to think over: We have now on us a tax rate of $1.75, the highest in 25 years. CITIZEN TAX PAYER.

NEGRO LYNCHED

Masked Men Take Black From County Officers

Mobile, Ala., June 19.—Tom Jackson, a negro 20 years old, who shot and killed Deputy Sheriff Coate, of Clarke county, was taken by masked men from Clarke county officers near Jackson this morning and he has not been heard from since.

Jackson was charged with theft of a goat. To arrest the negro Deputy Coate went to Jackson's house, five miles from the town of Jackson Tuesday night. As Coate was forcing the door, the negro fired and fatally wounded him.

Although mortally wounded Coate shot and seriously injured Jackson. The negro was also struck by another officer's bullet, but he crawled from his house in the garden and there lay all night. Officers found him this morning and were taking him to Jackson when intercepted by the mob.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

mittee room at 10:30 tonight after attempting to beat open the doors and bring all newspaper men into the room.

The doors of the committee room were suddenly thrown open by J. J. Sullivan, of Ohio, who rushed out with the cry, "all Roosevelt men walk out."

He was followed by Hugh T. Halbert, of Minnesota, Francis J. Heney, of California; George L. Record, of New Jersey, and other Roosevelt men. As they pushed open the swinging doors Sullivan cried out to the newspaper men: "All newspaper men come inside and see what they are trying to do to us."

Colonel Thayer, assistant sergeant-at-arms, shouted to the doorkeeper to admit no one. The Roosevelt forces shouted again for every one to come in. Mr. Thayer called for policemen, who pushed their way through and kept the crowd from getting in.

The Roosevelt men rushed out, saying they were acting under orders of Colonel Roosevelt. "Everybody go to the Florentine room at the Congress," shouted one man.

They rushed outside, followed by the crowd, and in the street outside the Coliseum they were overtaken by Secretary William Hayward.

"Why did you act that way?" he demanded of Heney. "Why didn't you wait until some rules had been passed?"

"We are acting under the direct orders of Colonel Roosevelt," retorted Heney. "We are obeying a better general than you," shouted George L. Record, of New Jersey. "He told us to leave the room and we did it."

Hugh T. Halbert declared the break came as the result of the refusal of the majority in the committee to open up all evidences in the cases. Mr. Halbert presented resolutions asking that the temporary roll of the convention be considered only as prima facie evidence of the right of delegates to sit and that all evidence, testimony and the like be gone into.

He declared the committee refused to do this and attempted to "gag" the minority by making rules that would have left the action of the National Committee as practically decisive in all the contests.

Mr. Heney later came back to the lobby and urged the Roosevelt contestants to go to the Florentine room of the Congress, where the Roosevelt headquarters are located and be heard by the members of the Credentials Committee representing Roosevelt.

The majority of the bolters later were induced to return to the committee room, but the Roosevelt men made it clear that they would leave in a body unless they were conceded their point.

STONEWALL JACKSON DAY

Celebrated at V. M. I. With Unveiling of Statue

Lexington, Va., June 19.—Stonewall Jackson Day was celebrated at the Virginia Military Institute here today, by the unveiling of a statue of the famous Southern warrior, presented to the school by Thomas F. Ryan. On account of the weather the preliminary exercises wehe held in the Stonewall Jackson Memorial Hall.

Colonel R. P. Chew, of Stuart's Horse Artillery, was the orator of the occasion. The presentation speech was by General Scott Shepp, superintendent emeritus of the institute, and that of acceptance by Geo. L. Browning, of the board of visitors. Little Anna Jackson Preston, 22 months old, held in her mother's arms, pulled the cord which unveiled the monument, the work of Sir Moses Ezekiel. Governor Mann presented the cadet with a new stand of Virginia colors. Tomorrow is the final day.

Spartanburg, S. C., June 19. — A week's campaign to raise $100,000 endowment for Converse College ended tonight with the announcement that $100,830 had been subscribed. The success of the campaign means that $50,000 will be added to this amount by the General Education Board of New York, giving the college an endowment of $150,000. The board offered $50,000 on condition that $100,000 be subscribed locally.

Washington, June 19.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks in the United States at the close of business on Friday, June 14th.

LOWER COURT SUSTAINED.

Virginia Court of Appeals Gives Decision In Vote-Selling Cases

Bristol, Va., June 19.—The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia has just handed down an opinion sustaining Judge H. A. W. Sheen's interpretation of the law under which he is prosecuting several hundred persons in Lee county, Va., for alleged vote-selling, following the sensational disclosures as to the wholesale corruption of the electorate of that county. An appeal was taken in the case of C. R. Flanary. An alleged vote-seller was put on trial charged with having received 40 dollars from Flanary under an agreement that he would vote for a certain candidate for a county office. When called as a witness at the trial Flanery refused to testify on the ground that his answer would incriminate himself, whereupon Judge Skeen finded him $25 for contempt of court.

In a sweeping decision the higher court sustains Judge Skeen, holding that as Flanary had previously testified before the grand jury that he was there by immunity from prosecution, not only for violations of the Barksdale pure election law, but for violation of any other election laws and that he could be compelled to testify in such a prosecution.

Judge Skeen will proceed with the trials of the large number of men indicted for vote-selling. He has granted immunity to the buyers and they will be compelled to testify in the cases of those against whom they testified before the grand jury.

REGULAR SESSION OF COUNCIL

Variety of Matters Considered at Regular Meeting Yesterday Morning. Special Meeting Called for Tomorrow Morning.

With Mayor Joseph D. Smith presiding and all members in attendance, the regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held yesterday morning, convening at 9:15 and lasting for two hours, during which time a variety of matters were discussed and acted upon. After considering the routine business Council went into executive session to discuss the sewerage matter and to decide whether or not to accept either of the two bids submitted and opened at the special session Wednesday. The attitude of Council with reference to the sewerage question is given in another column.

The letter of City Attorney Herbert McClammy with reference to the enforcement of the law against allowing buildings, porches, etc., to extend over the sidewalk, was read. The clerk was instructed to notify all persons affected to be present at the next regular meeting, when action will be taken.

A petition was presented from some 20 or 25 people living on Queen street, between Front and Fifth, asking for the improvement of that thoroughfare. Upon motion the petition was referred to the Streets and Wharves Department. Councilman P. Q. Moore said that he would grant the request of the petitioners if the money held out.

The contract with the Gamewell Fire Alarm & Telegraph Co., for the installation of a flash light and police call system, which had been signed by the Mayor and a representative of the Gamewell Co., was presented and accepted by Council. The city is to pay $6,500 for the system, $2,000 in cash and $2,500 a year for two years. Work on the system is expected to commence in the next few weeks.

Mr. J. O. Hinton, of the City Laundry Co., was present to protest against the increase of $16 a year in the special license tax of steam laundries, the raise being from $24 a year to $40 a year. His principal objection was that the Chinese laundryman is required to pay only $24; while the steam laundries have to pay the increase. He argued that this should not be so when the steam laundries have to run wagons and go to other additional expense to accommodate the public. Some one present made the point that the wagons, like other vehicles, in running over the streets of the city, do damage to the streets in excess of the amount of revenue secured in license tax. Mr. Hinton was asked by Mayor Smith if he had not raised the price of laundry. He replied that the price had been increased only on collars, the raise being half a cent on account of the cost of the installation of a special collar machine. Action was deferred until the next meeting.

Action was again deferred on the petition of Princess street property owners to give the Tidewater Power Co., the privilege of erecting an awning over the sidewalk on the south side at Front and Princess streets, and to install a cross-over or switch between Front and Second streets. In this connection a communication from Mr. J. G. Johnson, No. 1410 Market street, was read to the body:

"An idea for the benefit of the people of Wilmington and visitors at Front and Princess streets.

"Begging the consideration of the City Council I would suggest that they appropriate a space of 20 feet through the center of Princess street from Front to Water, and erect on it an open pavilion, 20 or 25 feet high, with a roof 30 feet wide. The building should be of steel frame and concrete base and extend from Front street 100 or 200 feet west. The ground floor would be fitted with seats and booths on each side, and wide aisle through the center. It should also be fitted with gentlemen and ladies' toilets at the lower end, and with a drinking fountain near the center. The second floor should extend the whole length of the building and should contain ample seats and any other appliances that would tend to the convenience and comfort of the waiting public.

"To compensate for the space occupied by this building the sidewalks on this block could be reduced two feet in width, as the pavilion aisle, being sheltered, would naturally attract 90 per cent. of the travel, thereby leaving 15-foot drive-way on each side which probably would be readily tolerated at this point by the people interested."

No action was taken, but one or two members expressed the opinion that the idea was a good one.

The social club ordinance was again deferred, Councilman B. C. Moore not being ready to act upon it.

Mayor Smith reported that at a meeting of the County Board of Health last week a resolution was adopted instructing him to inform the Council that the body will be expected to stake steps to provide an incinerator for refuse and carrion on or before Friday of next week, when the board holds another meeting. It was decided to have a special meeting tomorrow morning at which time the question will be considered in connection with the plans for a sewerage system.

Mr. R. A. Parsley, of the Hilton Lumber Co., appeared before the Council to inquire about the bridge promised over the Seaboard tracks on Fourth street and the improvement of the street beyond the bridge. City Attorney McClammy said that the Coast Line and Seaboard are now in litigation over certain rights of way at the Fourth street bridge and that until this is settled nothing could be done Mr. Parsley said that he had been told by attorneys of both roads that the case had been amicably adjusted some weeks ago. Mr. McClammy then stated that if the controversy had been settled he would "get busy" right away to have the bridge constructed.

When it came to the improvement of the road or street beyond the bridge Mr. Parsley found Council's attitude somewhat changed from what it was when he appeared before the body and asked for the improvement some months ago, at which time he was assured that the improvement asked for would be made. Councilman P. Q. Moore, in charge of the Department of Streets and Wharves, frankly stated at the meeting yesterday that he did not believe the money would hold out for the Hilton improvement, although personally he woud like to do the work.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that if the street money was about gone he wanted to say that the First Ward had not received anything like its share and asserted that the improvement of the roadway beyond Hilton bridge was included in the plans as decided upon some time ago. He asked Councilman P. Q. Moore for a statement showing the amount of street improvement money yet unexpended and said that the remainder should be apportioned to the different wards. Councilman P. Q. Moore said he could furnish the statement any time it is desired.

It was brought out in the discussion that some time ago members of Council had a tacit understanding as to the amount of money that would be expended in each ward. Mr. Parsley, whose company is the fourth largest taxpayer in Wilmington, stated that if the money is not in the city treasury for the Hilton improvement then it has gone where it ought not to have gone. Councilman P. Q. Moore was on his feet instantly and said that notwithstanding the insinuation of Mr. Parsley he had not spent any money on the streets except as ordered by Council. Mr. Parsley explained that he did not mean to insinuate anything against Mr. Moore, whom he has always had the pleasure of esteeming a personal friend, but that if the money is gone it has been used in some other part of the city. The explanation was entirely satisfactory and the incident was ended. The roadway asked for by Mr. Parsley would cost not more than $2,000 or $3,000, it is said.

Councilman Tiencken brought to the attention of the Council the fact that the James Walker Memorial Hospital has not paid any water rent in three years. Reference was made to the fact that as the hospital had seen fit to render a bill against the city for the care of a policeman, in a private room, who was dangerously wounded, that the municipality should be equally strict with the hospital management. The matter will be taken up with the management of the hospital at once.

TO MODIFY SEWERAGE PLANS

Idea Is to Let Contract for Sewering Outlying Districts—Report Will Be Made at Meeting Tomorrow

In executive session yesterday morning the City Council practically decided to sewer the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city, not now reached by the Wilmington Sewerage Co., and leave to the existing system the work of caring for the central part of town, and in accordance with instructions given him at the meeting City Engineer F. F. Pillett is now at work on a modification of the plans for a completed system as prepared by Hazelhurst & Anderson. Another meeting of Council will be held tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock, at which definite action of the sewerage question will very probably be taken.

The decision of Council to supply sewerage to the outlying districts right away regardless of whether the municipality lays any sewers in the central portion of the city, was reached yesterday morning, when the city engineer announced the approximate cost of a new plant for the entire city as estimated from the two bids received and opened Wednesday. The lowest bid was that of Dabbs & Myers, of Meridan, Miss., for $353,752.25, while that of the Southern Asphalt & Construction Co., of Birmingham, Ala., was $397,137.10. It was said that the plans of Hazelhurst & Anderson can be modified, yet not changed in the main, so as to bring the cost of a completed system down to at least $250,000. Leaving out the central portion of the city, now served by the Wilmington Sewerage Co., and using a pipe line for a force pump down Water street from the northern to southern sections of the city instead of the expensive intercepting sewer proposed, it is believed that the amount of money available for sewerage will be sufficient to supply the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city. The work could be commenced in a short time and the controversy over the purchase of the existing system could be dropped for awhile at least.

There can be no question of the fact that the people of Wilmington think it high time Council was taking some action with reference to a settlement of the sewerage question and will no doubt hail with delight the announcement that there is a possibility of a contract being let in the near future for sewering the outlying districts—the parts of the city where sewerage is needed the worst. It is said that the sewers for the outlying districts can be constructed so that they may later be connected with the existing plant or incorporated and made a part of an entirely new system.

W. P. DREW PROMOTED.

Superintendent Agents Winston Division of Southern.

The many friends in this city of Mr. W. P. Drew, who was formerly connected with the Atlantic Coast Line in Wilmington, will read with much interest the following from the Mooresville Enterprise:

"Mr. W. P. Drew, who for the past several years has been the clever and efficient depot agent of the Southern Railway at this point, will leave tomorrow for Washington, to be assigned a position with the same company as superintendent of agents for the Winston Division of the Southern Railway. The promotion is deserved, for Mr. Drew is a thorough going young man, always attentive to business and considerate of the public. His new headquarters will be at Winston-Salem. Mrs. Drew and son will continue their residence here for some time yet. "Just who will succeed Mr. Drew is not known at present, but wil probably be announced tomorrow morning."

CUTTER PICKS UP A DERELICT

The Seminole Finds Waterlogged Schooner Fannie Prescott Off Frying Pan Shoals and Tows Her Into Southport

The revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. John G. Berry, which left her station here Saturday night to search for the derelict schooners Fannie Prescott and Judge Pennewill, accomplished the almost impossible task of picking up the former vessel after it had not been reported for seven days, and towed it into Southport Tuesday night where it was anchored in a safe berth in the Cape Fear river.

After hurrying up some necessary repairs to the main engine and dynamo of the cutter a start was made down the river Saturday night and by daylight the Seminole was out in the Gulf Stream. The Fannie Prescott bound from Savannah to New York had been abandoned just one week and as she had been drifting many miles each day the task of locating her was an enormous one. The Gulf Stream was followed up the coast all day Sunday without seeing anything of the disabled vessel. Several vessels were spoken but not until Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the schooner J. Manchester Haynes was hailed off Lookout, could anything be learned of the position of the Prescott. The Haynes reported having passed the Fannie Prescott 29 miles away and the Seminole went with increased speed to that position. The cutter reached the derelict in three hours time and found her waterlogged with her forward deck under water. Her masts were intact as were also her mainsail and spanker and two of her head sails. Her topsails were furled and in good condition. Streaming from her rigging were the tattered stripes of a U. S. flag, hanging Union down, as were also the remains of her distress signal, "N. O."

The Seminole made a line fast to the schooner and at 7 P. M., started toward Frying Pan lightship, 64 miles away, towing the Fannie Prescott and reached Southport at 9 o'clock Tuesday night. In cruising for the derelict vessel and towing her into Southport 506.8 miles were covered and the schooner had drifted 126 miles since June 10th.

Nothing could be found of the schooner Judge Pennewill which had been abandoned several days ago and as she was loaded with cement it is thought the vessel has sunk ere this.

Capt. John G. Berry, commanding the Seminole, reported the result of his cruise to the Revenue Cutter Service, as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., June 19, 1912.

"Captain Commandant E. P. Bertholf, U. S. Revenue Cutter Service, Washington, D. C.

"Sir:—I have the honor to report that the Seminole arrived at Southport, N. C., at 9 o'clock last night, and there anchored the three-masted schooner 'Fannie Prescott' of Stonington. This morning we proceeded to Wilmington, having left the schooner in charge of the pilots at Southport. As we came up the river a tug with the former master of the 'Fannie Prescott' passed us, bound for the wreck.

"On the 13th instant, I received your telegrams directing me to search for the 'Fannie Prescott' and the 'Judge Pennewill.' The main engine and dynamo of the Seminole were disabled at the time, but the effort was made to expedite the work of repairs, and we were able to leave Wilmington on June 15th at 10 P. M.

"The interval since the last report from these vessels was so great that I reasoned that the vessels could be anywhere between Frying Pan Shoals and Cape Hatteras, so I ran right out to within fifteen miles of the axis of the Gulf Stream, and then ran up with the stream as far as Lookout shoals on the morning of the 16th instant, and began overhauling and speaking every vessel in sight, until at 3 P. M. the schooner 'J. Manchester Haynes' reported that she had passed the derelict schooner 'Fannie Prescott' 39 miles S. W. X S., from her position, which at that time was off Lookout shoals. Going to the position located, we found the abandoned schooner.

"She was lying waterlogged with her forward deck under water. Her masts were intact as were also her mainsail and spanker and two of her head sails. Her topsails were furled and in good condition. Streaming from her rigging were the tattered stripes of a U. S. flag, hanging Union down, as were also the remains of her distress signal, 'N. O.'

"We reached the wreck at 6 P. M. At 7 P. M., we had started toward Frying Pan shoals lightship 64 miles away, towing the schooner with an eight-inch line. Without slackening speed a six-inch line was dropped down to her from the other quarter, and with both these lines fast, we made between five and six knots through the water.

"But the vessel yawned badly and by 10 o'clock that night we had chafed the eight-inch line so that it parted. We slowed down and towed her until 1 o'clock with the six-inch line until that also parted. We were forced to lie by until daylight, when a ten-inch line was sent aboard the schooner, and we again started ahead with her. Boatswain George H. D'Orange with three men were left on board the schooner, and the Seminole's cutter was left with them towing behind her, in case of the foundering of the tow, which might have rendered her abandonment necessary.

"The vessel was found in Lat. 33 deg., 36 min. N.; 76 deg., 30 min. W. Frying Pan L. V. West 66.5 miles, having drifted right up the Gulf Stream at the rate of 7-10th knots per hour To show how difficult it is to find these derelicts, our track shows that we must have passed within five miles of the schooner at about 5 P. M., Sunday, June 16th, without seeing her, although we had a lookout at the mast head, and were keeping a bright lookout also from the bridge.

"The 'Fannie Prescott' is only about six years old and apparently not badly damaged. It may be that she is not even leaking, but her fore hatch has been torn off, and she may merely have filled with water from the seas which broke over her.

"Respectfully,

"JOHN G. BERRY,

"Captain Commanding U. S. R. C. S."

ANNUAL REPORT SUBMITTED

Councilman of Accounts and Finance Gives Account of His Department for the Past Year—Read at Meeting.

A feature of the regular session of Council yesterday morning was the report of Councilman Tiencken, of the Department of Accounts and Finance, giving an account of his department for the past year. Accompanying his report was the annual report of the city clerk and treasurer. It is presumed that there will be an annual report from the other departments of the city government and that these will be submitted some time in the near future.

A great many peope have been heard to remark that the Streets and Wharves Department, through the city engineer, should submit a detailed monthly report of the street work and all other work that comes under the head of this department. In other cities a monthly report is made by the city engineer and it covers in detail the work coming under his supervision. Such a report ordinarily at a glance gives one an intelligent idea of the work done during the preceding month. Extracts from the report of Councilman Tiencken will be of interest and are given below:

"I beg to submit the following report of the operations of the Department of Accounts and Finance for the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1912. I transmit herewith also the report of the city treasurer for the same period, and also certificate from the auditors employed to examine the accounts and assets.

"Reorganization. When the Council assumed charge of the city government on the 6th of May, 1911, and this department was assigned to me, immediate steps were taken to consolidate and simplify the work which had been theretofore done under the two departments previously controlled separately by the Board of Audit and Finance and the Board of Aldermen, as well as by the Commissioners in charge of the water and sewerage department and street improvements.

"Unnecessary books, blanks and reports were discontinued, and duplicated records eliminated in order to secure the best results with the least complication of routine. I believe this has been accomplished, and while it has greatly increased the work of the officers who were retained, there has been a reduction of cost in the management of the office.

"Funds.—Among the first steps taken in this department was one transferring all city funds to depositories in the name of the city of Wilmington, and requiring all funds collected to be deposited daily in the name of the city. Under previous methods, the city funds were kept in the name of the city treasurer. The banks were notified that all warrants or checks drawn against city funds would be signed by the treasurer, and countersigned by the Councilman in charge of this department, and by the Mayor. Under this arrangement, the treasurer was relieved of the necessity of giving the very large bond formerly executed, his obligation being limited to the ordinary run of collections. It might be proper to add that this plan was suggested by that officer, and has worked with much ease and satisfaction.

"Under the system inaugurated, no bills are paid in the office of the treasurer, much interruption in his work being thereby saved that officer. The method also promotes the convenience of merchants. Bills are audited promptly and warrants, payable at the banks, are mailed, avoiding the loss of time of collecting clerks in trips to the City Hall. The fact that a bill will be paid without delay at the office of the party interested is a saving of time to all concerned.

"The presence of the Mayor in his office regularly during banking hours has been a great and necessary assistance in facilitating his prompt settlement of accounts.

"Interest on Funds.—Funds have been kept at interest in the several banks during the year on a basis of 4 per cent, and the increment from this source has amounted to $5,675.77, which amount has been passed to the credit of the several accounts entitled thereto as indicated in the report of the treasurer.

"Sinking Fund.—The chairman of the sinking fund turned over to me at the beginning of the year: Cash, $10,962.06; city bonds, par value, $34,000; certificate of indebtedness of Bank of New Hanover, $304.09; a total of $45,266.15. I received during the year: Cash from tax account, $3,528; interest on investments, $2,024.28; a grand total of $50,818.41.

"We now have on hand, City bonds, par value, $48,500; cash, $2,014.32; certificate of indebtedness, $304.09; a total of $50,818.41.

"It is gratifying to be able to state that this fund will be sufficient, at the present rate of increase, to liquidate the issue of city bonds falling due in 1918, though it may be questioned if it is not wiser policy to secure authority from the Legislature to cancel all city bonds, already acquired and any that may be hereafter purchased, at less effective immediate reduction of our bonded debt.

"Our collections on license taxes have been kept up very much more closely than ever before, and this item shows a decided improvement over previous years. It is to be hoped that the time will come when this character of tax may be minimized if not abolished.

"Much of the good showing made in the tax collection department is due to the thorough knowledge of the tax books possessed by Mr. Chas. H. White, tax collector, and his assiduous attention to collections.

"Water and Sewerage Department.—This department is earning more than its operating expenses but not enough to pay fixed charges without crediting it with services to the fire department. While this has not been provided for through the budget, it is nevertheless proper to consider this service in estimating results. With this allowance made, the water department is taking care of itself and should eventually do more as the service is extended.

"Very much is due to Mr. Thos. D. Meares, city treasurer, Mr. Charles H. White, tax collector, and Miss P. ——, stenographer, for their earnest efforts to facilitate the work in the department with intelligence and economy.

"It gives me pleasure to express my approval of their services during the year. Work has gone along smoothly, with every effort toward improvement, and with the desire to make all dealings with the public as pleasant as possible. I also wish to extend thanks to the members of the Council for their many courtesies."

There are several items in the report of the city clerk and treasurer not previously published that will be of interest: Water and sewerage department—Balance on hand, June 1st, 1911, $8,782.57; receipts during the year $34,648.13; a total of $43,430.70; disbursements during the year, $36,923.25, leaving a balance on hand June 1st, 1912, of $6,507.45. The water and sewerage bond fund shows a balance on June 1st of $127,916.61. On June 1st there was a balance of only $135,637.63 of the street improvement bond account. The sinking fund on June 1st, amounted to $50,818.30. The bonded indebtedness of the city is $1,584,400.

McGlaughon, for $100 and other considerations, lot No. 7 in block 27, Carolina Place.

FUNERAL OF DR. GEO. F. LUCAS.

Held From Late Residence at Currie Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, of Currie, who died suddenly Tuesday evening, was held from the family residence yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was attended by a very large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives. Persons from all over Pender county were present to pay a last sad tribute of respect to the memory of their deceased friend.

Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, this city, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. E. B. Carr, pastor of the Black River Circuit. It was impossible for the large crowd to get into the house, and the service was preached from the porch, while the congregation occupied the large lawn.

Interment was made in the Walker cemetery nearby. The grave was literally covered with floral designs and flowers.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

After the Vagrants—No Cases of Great Interest Yesterday.

The police for the past few days have been keeping an especially vigilant lookout for those who manage to exist without working, and in the Recorder's court yesterday several colored persons were tried on charges of vagrancy. Warren Thorne was found guilty and was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads, judgment being suspended, however, on condition that the defendant secure work at once and work steadily; if not judgment to be prayed any time within the next 60 days.

Golden Murray was less fortunate, drawing a straight sentence of 30 days on the roads. Cases charging vagrancy against Edward Campbell and Robert Collins, both colored, were nol prossed.

Albert Jordan, a small negro boy charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon another negro boy who rejoices in the cognomen of "Happy," was found not guilty. A nol pros was taken in a case charging Chas. Shepard, colored, with driving an unlicensed wagon.

Mr. Freeman Yopp was taxed the costs for an assault and battery. T. H. Lewis and J. W. Sandlin, white men charged with an affray, were found not guilty. John Anderson, also white, paid the costs for an assault and battery. Two drunks contributed $5 and costs each.

Judgment was pronounced in the case against Ben Edge, colored, who was tried a few days ago on a charge of an assault with a knife upon another negro. The judgment was $50 and costs.

The Weather Yesterday.

While the temperature yesterday ranged almost as high as on Monday and Tuesday, a good breeze was blowing most of the day and the heat was not nearly so noticeable as on the two preceding days. The maximum temperature yesterday was 95, the minimum 76, and the mean 86. Slightly cooler weather is expected.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

Every pore and gland of the skin is employed in the necessary work of preserving its smooth, even texture, softening and cleansing it, and regulating the temperature of our bodies. This is done by an evaporation through each tiny outlet, which goes on continually day and night. When the blood becomes infected with humors and acids a certain percentage of these impurities also pass off with the natural evaporation, and their sour, fiery nature irritates and inflames the skin, and dries up its natural oils, causing pimples, boils, pustules or some itching rash, or hard, scaly skin affection. S. S. S. cures skin troubles of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its nutritious, red corpuscles, and enriches it in every way. Then the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased by the exuding acrid matter, is nourished, soothed and softened by this cooling, healthy stream of blood. S. S. S., the greatest of blood purifiers, expels all foreign matter and surely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum and all other diseases and affections of the skin. It removes pimples, blackheads, and other unsightly blemishes from the skin and assists in restoring a good complexion. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired free to all who write.

MISS MERCY NEWKIRK BRIDE OF DR. RALPH L. HARTLY.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. B. W. Newkirk, 120 North Second street, when his daughter, Miss Mercy Newwirk, became the bride of Dr. Ralph L. Hartly, of Harris Springs, S. C., Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, officiating.

The home was very prettily decorated for the wedding ceremony, which was witnessed only by the relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lois Newkirk, as maid of honor.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harriss left to visit his mother in South Carolina for a time, following which they will go to Harris Springs, where they will make their home. The best wishes of a host of friends, both here and elsewhere, go with them.

ENGAGEMENT OF POPULAR YOUNG BURGAW COUPLE.

Burgaw, N. C., June 19.—Tuesday afternoon, from 4 to 5, Mrs. W. N. Rivenbark delightfully entertained at her beautiful home on Railroad street, in honor of Miss Berta Burton. The hostess was assisted in receiving at the door by Mrs. Chas. R. Yopp and in the south parlor by Mesdames A. E. Burton and Long. They were all attired in lingerie frocks, and Miss Burton wore blue messaline. Several solos were rendered on the piano.

The large number of guests present were ushered into the dining room where delicious refreshments suitable to the season, were dispensed, when interest was aroused by a loud peal of door bell and little Miss Dosson entered with a telegram for Miss Flossie Myers. She broke the seal and read "Miss Berta Burton, Mr. Benjamin Seal, July 17, 1912." Many wishes for happiness were showered on the bride-to-be, who is very popular among a large circle of friends.

OPENING SESSION TODAY

Woman's Missionary Union of Wilmington Presbytery Will Convene In 24th Annual Session —Day's Programme

Preceded by a preliminary service at the First Presbyterian church last evening, at which time Rev. Dr. Alexander Sprunt, of Charleston, S. C., delivered an address, the 24th annual session of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Wilmington Presbytery will convene this morning at 9:45 o'clock for a two-day session. All the meetings will be held in the First Presbyterian church. It is expected that there will be a large number of ladies from all over the Presbytery in attendance.

There was a good congregation at the church last night and Dr. Sprunt's remarks were heard with a great deal of pleasure and interest. His subject was, "Motives for Missionary Work," and he handled it in a thoroughly masterful manner. His address was deeply impressive and abounded in ispiration for all interested in mission work.

Three sessions will be held today, the opening session beginning at 9:45 this morning. Following organization devotional exercises will be led by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells. Mrs. B. F. Hall will extend greetings to the convention and the response will be delivered by Mrs. F. M. Simmons. Reports from the different committees, officers and organizations will then be received, following which Dr. Geo. Worth will deliver an address.

The afternoon session will begin at 3 o'clock and will be in the nature of a young people's service. Miss Nell Bowden will lead the song service; Miss Isabel McDougal the devotional service and Mrs. J. C. Stewart will give a report of the young people's work. Rev. A. L. Phillips, of Richmond, will deliver an address on "Service," and Miss Isabel Arnold, of Virginia, will conduct an institute on "Efficiency." All young people of the different churches of the city are invited to be present.

At 8 o'clock the evening session will begin, Rev. A. L. Phillips will deliver an address on home missions and Rev. W. H. Hudson on foreign missions. Stereopticon views will be shown by Dr. Geo. C. Worth.

There will be three sessions tomorrow also, the Union adjourning after the evening service.

The officers of the Union are as follows: President, Mrs. Jackson Johnson, of Winnabow; first vice president, Mrs. A. D. McClure; second vice president, Mrs. A. O. Osborne; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. T. Bannerman; recording secretary, Miss Mary Sloan, of Garland; agent young people's work, Mrs. J. C. Stewart; agent May Johnson Loan Fund, Miss M. Colvin; agent Hospital Fund, Miss Eliza Murphy.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. Henry Elliott, of Hickory, was a business visitor in the city Monday and yesterday.

—Messrs. John Walker and George F. Pegram, of the Winston-Salem postoffice, are guests of Mr. A. B. Guyton, of the local postal service.

—Mr. L. B. Howell has returned from Richmond, where he has been undergoing treatment at St. Luke's Hospital. His many friends are glad to know that he is much improved.

—Among yesterday's arrivals at The Colonial Inn were: C. W. Eason, Mt. Tabor; G. G. Bunder and wife, Virginia; Ira B. Miles, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Rena Nortman, Castle Haynes.

MISS KATE HILL DEAD.

Passed Away Yesterday Afternoon at Her Home—Funeral Today.

Miss Kate Hill, daughter of the late Mr. A. J. Hill, and the last member of one of the old families of the lower Cape Fear, died yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, at her home, No. 8 North Fourth street, following an illness of several months. Miss Hill was paralyzed several months ago and has been in enfeebled health since that time. A few days ago she suffered a second stroke and never rallied, sinking gradually unti the end came.

The deceased is survived by one nephew, Mr. R. Lee Holmes, and two nieces, Mrs. B. P. Harrison, of this city, and Mrs. W. G. Haughton, of Spartanburg, S. C., all of whom will have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Miss Hill was a woman of beautiful Christian character and kindly and noble disposition. She was a consistent and devoted member of St. John's Episcopal church, and was ever deeply interested in all phases of church work.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 5 o'colck from St. John's church. Rev. W. E. Cox, the rector, will conduct the services. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

To Regain a Healthy, Girlish Complexion

(From the Feminine World.)

If you would have a clear, fresh, girlish complexion, one ounce of ordinary mercolized wax will aid you in this direction more than shelves full of cosmetics. It produces a natural beauty. This wax, procurable at any drug store, completely absorbs a bad complexion, revealing the healthy young skin underneath. Its work is done so gradually, day by day, that no inconvenience is caused. The wax is applied at night, like cold cream, and removed in the morning with soap and water.

Another valuable rejuvenating treatment—if you have wrinkles, or your skin is flabby and saggy—is to bathe your face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 1-2 pint witch hazel. This has a remarkable action in smoothing out the lines and "firming up" the loosened tissue.

..Theatrical..

The Grand

Yesterday failed to bring the promised breezes from the North to relieve the torrid temperature of the past few days, but Grandites forgot it once inside the doors of the theatre. The full completement of fans was running, and this, with the additional ones recently installed, made the temperature lower than anywhere else in the city. One can always find relief from the heat by dropping in at the Grand, and incidentally, see as good a show as ever was presented in a picture playhouse. For today the topliner will be a Selig production, "The Tree of Knowledge," a timely and forceful drama on the fallacy of gathering great wealth. In the cast will be seen some of the Selig Company's greatest performers, headed by Miss Winifred Greenwood in the leading role. Another leader will be a Lubin, "The Choir of Densmore," which tells a pathetic and heart touching human interest story which will appeal to all. The excellent Grand orchestra will do their usual share towards contributing to the pleasure of the throngs that crowd the popular house every day.

At the Bijou.

Bidding defiance to the hot weather, the New Bijou yesterday both cooled and delighted vast throngs of folks. Business yesterday was of the phenomenal type, and all who attended reveled in the solid comfort of the amusement palace and found invigoration and pleasure in the cool and freely ventilated spot.

Another wonderful bill will be dished up in fine style today, and it is well to note directly on the start that another one of those great laugh films, in which the celebrated motion picture comedian, Mr. John Bunny, plays the stellar role, will be a topliner. This film, "Pandora's Box", is a genuine scream, and Bunny does some of the most mirth-provoking stunts he has ever pulled off. His grimaces and fat are given swell chance to make folks roar with laughter.

Heading the dramatic part of the bill is one that deals with a question of the hour. It is "The Gun Smugglers," and the scenes are laid on the Mexican border and in the revolutionary country itself. A stirring story runs throughout the photoplay, while the scenery is beautiful.

CIVIL CASE TRIED.

Whiskey House Brings Suit in Justice Bornemann's Court.

Justice Bornemann yesterday dismissed an action brought by the Phil. G. Kelly Co., Inc., of Richmond, against H. Mack Godwin, of this city, to recover the sum of $200.60, alleged to be due on whiskey and beer sold to the defendant some time ago. Kenan & Stacy appeared for the plaintiff and Woodus Kellum, Esq., represented the defendant. Godwin took the stand himself and admitted that he had purchased the whiskey, stating that he had given the order to a representative of the company and that the whiskey and beer had been delivered to him within two hours and a half after the order was placed.

Justice Bornemann held that the plaintiff had violated the prohibition law by making the sale and delivering the goods in such a short time after the order had been received. He held that this was evidence that the plaintiff had a stock of whiskey in Wilmington and filled the order from this stock. He therefore dismissed the action.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Carolina Jenkins, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer A. R. Nelms on suspicion. The woman was seen at the Market street pawnshop trying to pawn a valuable set of Rogers' silver tableware. The set was of very fine quality and consisted of knives, forks, spoons, sugar spoons, butter knife, etc. The negro could not give a satisfactory expalnation as to how she became the owner of siverware of such quality, and she is being held at the City Hall while the officers will endeavor to ascertain whether or not the goods were stolen.

WHERE DOCTORS FAILED TO HELP

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Green's Health—Her Own Statement.

Covington, Mo.—"Your medicine has done me more good than all the doctor's medicines. At every monthly period I had to stay in bed four days because of hemorrhages, and my back was so weak I could hardly walk. I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I can stay up and do my work. I think it is the best medicine on earth for women."—Mrs. JENNIE GREEN, Covington, Mo.

How Mrs. Cline Avoided Operation.

Brownsville, Ind.—"I can say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me more good than anything else. One doctor said I must be operated upon for a serious female trouble and that nothing could help me but an operation.

"I had hemorrhages and at times could not get any medicine to stop them. I got in such a weak condition that I would have died if I had not got relief soon.

"Several women who had taken your Compound, told me to try it and I did and found it to be the right medicine to build up the system and overcome female troubles.

"I am now in great deal better health than I ever expected to be, so I think I ought to thank you for it."—Mrs. O. M. CLINE, S. Main St., Brownsville, Ind.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Emple are guests for several days at Mrs. Annie Northrop's cottage.

The regular mid-week dance was given at Lumina last night and as usual was largely attended by young people from the city as well as by the visitors and cottagers on the beach.

The celebrated auxiliary launch Scuppernong which left Wilmington for Wrightsville Beach Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in command of Capt. C. D. Maffitt, accompanied by Mr. D. K. Cecil, of Greensboro, and Mr. James Melton, anchored at Corn Cake inlet at 7 P. M. The party remained there all night and weighing anchor at 4:30 yesterday morning proceeded to Wrightsville, arriving there safe and sound at 7:45 after a very quick and splendid passage. The Scuppernong will be at the beach all the Summer and will be used for taking out fishing and pleasure parties. The launch will be in charge of a competent master.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Feeny Quince, colored, was yesterday adjudged insane by Maj. W. N. Harriss, Clerk of Superior Court, and application has been made for her admission to the State hospital at Goldsboro.

—The local lodge of the Order of Bees will hold its regular meeting tonight at 8:15 o'cock. The charter closes tonight. Refreshments will be served and all members are urged to be present.

—Mr. W. G. James has purchased through the Wilder & Metts agency a lot on Chesnut street, 155x130 feet in size, extending from 16th to 17th streets. It is understood that the consideration was $6,000.

—The Cape Fear Independent Band will conduct an excursion to Carolina Beach tomorrow. There will be three boats, leaving the city at 9 A. M., 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. The last boat will return to the city late at night.

—The fire department was called out last evening at 6:25 by an alarm from box 411. A dilapidated platform at the old Astyptodine works at the foot of Wright street, had ignited from a spark from the Wilmington Cooperage plant nearby. No damage was done.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Mr. H. J. Russell, of Wilmington, and Mrs. Ida Boswell, of Delgado; also for the marriage of Mr. Daniel L. Benson, of this city, and Miss Carrie May Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hines, of Wilmington.

—Friends of Dr. R. B. Seem, formerly in charge of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, will learn with pleasure that he was granted a license to practice medicine in this State at the meeting of the State Board of Examiners yesterday. Dr. Seem will practice in Wilmington.

—J. A. Riggs, a white man charged with a nuisance, yesterday waived examination before Justice Harriss and the case went over to the Recorder's court. The warrant alleges that Riggs maintains a nuisance by keeping his store open on Sunday, and allowing drinking, cursing and fighting among the persons who gather there.

YOUNG MAN MISSING.

Left Fayetteville Sunday for Beach—Has Not Been Seen Since.

Chief of Police John J. Fowler received Tuesday a telegram asking for information regarding Aaron Litvan, a young white man of Newbern, who left that city Sunday for Wrightsville Beach with the intention of returning that night and who has not been seen there since. The telegram was as follows: "Aaron Litvan left Newbern Sunday for Wrightsville Beach, to return that night. Haven't heard from him. See if he can be found. Size, five feet, one, age 23, weight 110. Answer. S. Coplon."

Chief Fowler made inquiry at the beach Tuesday afternoon, but could learn nothing of the young man. He also made an effort to ascertain whether he had been seen in the city, but was unsuccessful also. He telegraphed Mr. Coplon that nothing could be learned of the young man.

Mr. W. B. Savage, life saver at Lumina, is quoted as saying that he saw a man Sunday who answers the description and who is believed to have been Litvan, but where he went to is not known.

MOVING TO NEW HOME

Wilmington Stamp & Printing Co., Occupies Building on Second Street

The Wilmington Stamp & Printing Company, which has been doing a most successful business at No. 15 Princess street for a number of years, is removing this week to No. 116 North Second street, the two-story brick building recently purchased from Mr. F. T. Mills and wife as the home of the printing establishment. The company has one of the best equipped printing offices in this section of the State and in its enlarged quarters will be better prepared than ever to take care of its large business. The office is equipped with four monotypes, three large cylinder and eight job presses. The force has recently been greatly increased. By the latter part of the week all the equipment will have been transferred from the old to the new office.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT.

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting.

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor and vitality, the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

MARRIED LAST EVENING.

Miss Carrie May Hines Becomes Bride of Mr. D. L. Benson.

Mr. Daniel L. Benson and Miss Carrie May Hines were very happily married last evening at 9 o'clock at No. 1212 South Second street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hines, parents of the bride. Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a few close friends.

The bride and groom were attended by two couples, Miss Viney Wolf and Mr. Richard Benson, a brother of the groom; and Mr. Jesse Marshall and Miss Bessie Hines, sister of the bride. The young ladies were all dressed in handsome gowns of white messaline. The bride carried a shower bouquet of asparagus ferns and white roses and the bridesmaids carried white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in honor of the wedding party. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson are both well known young people and have a host of friends who will extend to them best wishes and congratulations. They will make their home at No. 205 Kidder street.

Sales by Wright Agency.

The J. G. Wright & Son real estate agency yesterday sold to Councilman B. C. Moore a lot on the northeast corner of Second and Hanover streets, 77 1-2x130 feet in size, for a consideration of about $2,000. The lot was sold for Mrs. Margaret E. Rathjen. Other sales by the Wright agency in the last several days include a lot on Orange, 66 feet east of Seventh, 66x120 feet in size, from Mrs. C. D. Foard to Mr. Sol. Sternberger, for about $3,500, and a lot on the northeast corner of Fifth and Queen street, 66x113 feet in size, from Mrs. Carrie E. Helbig, of Denver, Colo., to the Southeastern Realty Company.

Funeral this (Thursday) afternoon at 5 o'clock, from St. John's Episcopal church. Friends and acquaintances respectfully invited to attend.

DEPRECATES JUDICIAL RECALL.

Judge Hornblower Addresses Yale Law School Graduates.

New Haven, Conn., June 17.—Deprecation of the recall of judges, a plea for the independence of the judiciary, and a denunciation of the "scheme for the recall of judicial decisions, advocated by an ex-President of the United States," as futile, featured the address delivered this afternoon by Judge William B. Hornblower, of New York, to the graduating class of the Yale Law School. He said:

"If the safeguards of the constitution and the integrity of the courts were not maintained then the government of law and order would come to an end."

Washington, June 15.—The Bureau of Corporations has completed its investigation of cotton tare and will issue a comprehensive report on the subject within a few weeks. It will demonstrate the methods of baling cotton in this country, and the allowances for tare in foreign countries on American importations. It probably will plead for a standardization of the matter.

Counsel for the defense in referring to the action relative to the stock conversion said it was for the purpose of getting working capital for the Alabama company and that it had saved the latter about $50,000 in fixed charges. It was also claimed that President Joseph H. Hoadley, of the Alabama company, and his associates, who have brought action against the trust company, knew of the conversion and that it was Mr. Hoadley's place to see that a proper certificate was filed with the State of New Jersey when the bonds were sold.

Man Coughs and Breaks Ribs.

After a frightful coughing spell a man of Neenah, Wis., felt terrible pains in his side and his doctor found two ribs had been broken. What agony Dr. King's New Discovery would have saved him. A few teaspoonsful ends a late cough, while persistent use routs obstinate coughs, expels stubborn colds or heals weak, sore lungs. "I feel sure it's a Godsend to humanity," writes Mrs. Effie Morton, Columbia, Mo., "for I believe I would have consumption today if I had not used this great remedy." COTTON PRICES SHOW LOSS

Favorable Weather Reports and Larger Acreage Figures Cause Some Heavy General Selling in the Market.

New York, June 19.—Better weather reports and larger acreage figures were followed by heavy general selling in the cotton market today and while the closing tone was very steady, last prices showed a net loss of from 12 to 17 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5 points in response to lower Liverpool cables and a crop report issued by a prominent local trade publication, indicating that the reduction in acreage as compared with last year had been less than one-half of one per cent. At first offerings were pretty well taken and early fluctuations were more or less irregular around the opening figures, but the weather forecast was considered favorable and toward midday increased offerings were accompanied by rumors that prominent Southwestern interests were heavy sellers on prospects for a very large crop in Texas. The resulting break uncovered stop orders and the market became rather excited with prices selling off to a net loss of from 20 to 21 points under general liquidation and beer pressure.

The decline was checked around 11.38 for October by covering on the part of recent sellers and a renewal of bull support, but comparative moderate bulges found plenty of cotton for sale and the market continued nervous and unsettled in the late trading. Closing prices showed a rally of from 5 to 7 points from the lowest.

Receipts 3,579 bales, against 2,466 last week, and 1,094 last year. To-day's receipts at Galveston 789 bales, against 61 last year; t New Orleans 1,-603, against 475 last year, and at Houston 381, against 163 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 00 points lower; middling uplands, 11.60; do. gulf, 11.85; sales, 36 bales.

Futures closed very steady.

STOCKS SHOW SOME STRENGTH

The Market Opened With a Promise of Activity—Coal Shares Supplies Bulk of Early Business. Bond Market.

New York, June 19.—The stock market opened today with some show of activity and strength, but these promises were not fulfilled, although the undertone remained moderately strong.

Coal shares, which were under considerable pressure yesterday, supplied the bulk of the early business at higher prices. Wall Street evidently chose to ignore the possible effects of the proposed investigation into these properties by the Inter-State Commerce Commission and buying of Reading and Lehigh Valley soon wiped out recent recessions. Later both reacted from their best prices, the upward movement switching to New York Central, which more than recovered its dividend and Chesapeake & Ohio, which rose as a result of the recent dividend on Hocking Valley.

In the early afternoon the market became extremely dull, with spasmodic movements in some of the obscure issues, and Amalgamated Copper, the latter being assisted by rumors of another advance in the price of copper metal, the second in two days.

The tone of the market at the close ranged steady to irreguar. Time money was a bit firmer here, some of the larger institutions placing 90 day loans at 3 1-4 per cent., compared with bids of 3 per cent. the day before. There was some lending of 60 day money at 3 per cent. with no demand for shorter periods.

The heaviness of New York City issues was the feature of today's bond market, with an uncertain movement elsewhere. Total sales, par value $1,-767,000. Panama 3s declined 1-8 per cent. on call. Total sales stocks today 195,800 shares.

COLONEL'S COHORTS MEET DEFEAT A SECOND TIME

said the call of the lunch appealed to him and he moved a recess until 3 P. M.

"No," cried hundreds of voices and the motion was not put.

"If you recognize the right of a committee to pass on the right of State delegates to sit in a National convention," resumed Mr. Record, when order was restored," you have established government by a minority."

"You are submitting to a partial and packed tribunal cases where the verdict is reached before the evidence is submitted."

An outbreak in the Indiana delegation followed the assertion of Record that in one district in Indianapolis the returns were made up by the officials without even opening the ballot box.

William E. English, a delegate from the Seventh district, leaped to his feet and the entire delegation broke into an uproar.

"There was no contest in that district," shouted English wildly, waving his fists in the air. "You know there was no contest there."

William Holton Dye, a Roosevelt delegate in the Indiana delegation, sprang to his feet and shouted at English. The latter yelled back.

"Liar, liar, liar," and started toward Dye.

Other members seized the two men and kept them aprt.

In a lull Mayor Shanks, of Indianapolis shouted from his seat to Record on the stage: "If you keep on you'll get a scrap out of me."

So much disorder had occurred in the galleries that Chairman Root ordered a recess until all who desired to do so could leave the building.

The delay totalled 15 minutes and then Record resumed his argument attacking the right of the contested men on the Indiana delegation to sit in the convention.

Record, in conclusion, said the party was facing the greatest crisis in its history.

"We don't want to be driven out of the party either by force or conscience," he said and added: "But if we are to permit an outside body to pack this convention and to carry the packing through to a Presidential nomination, the conscience of the American people will revolt."

Robert E. Morris, of Arizona, then spoke in defense of the Taft delegates from that State.

Mr. Morris caused much merriment in the National convention. He said the Roosevelt people at the end of the convention marched out of the hall. "Bolted," called a voice from the floor.

"Yes, and we remained and passed every parliamentry move that was necessary.

Judge Morris was interrupted by laughter.

All that remained was parliamentary pretice, he resumed amid renewed fla laughter.

Attack on Gov. Hadley

The next speaker was Thomas H. Devine, of Colorado, a member of the Divine, of Colorado, a member of the Taft forces and slated for chairman of the Committee on Credentials.

Devine sat in the seats of the Republican National Committee as the representative of Colorado. He declared the 14 members of the committee had "listened to their master's voice" and signed a statement the contents of which they did not know.

Mr. Devine said Governor Hadley had told him he expected to "say nothing nice about the National Committee," after it seated his Missouri delegation.

"But it seems to have been one of those Misouri gentleman's agreements," he said, "which he stands for only when it is to his own interest."

A wave of hisses and hoots from Roosevelt forces greeted this attack on Governor Hadley.

Turning to the Southern contests, Mr. Devine characterized the action of the Roosevelt men in "stirring up" those contests as " a most damnable piece of business."

There were groans, cheers, and hisses at this and thereafter Devine was constantly in trouble with his audience.

He referred to Ormsby McHarg, who directed most of the Southern contests as "an emissary from the North, loaded or unloaded, I won't say which."

There was a series of interruptions after which Devine said:

"This emissary went among the delegates that were honestly elected —"

"Haw, haw, haw," laughed several delegates and their example quickly was followed on floor and galleries.

When Devine resumed his denunciation of the Southern contests, some one yelled that his statements were not true.

"You say they are not true?" he shouted, "but 101 of those contests were thrown out of the committee unanimously."

This brought a cheer wave from the Taft folk.

Chicago, June 19.—Talk of a definite rupture in the Republican National Convention was insistent tonight in the Roosevelt camp. Reports of this nature were repeated with such frequence as to lend color to the belief of many that they were well grounded. The use of the term "bolt," however, was carefully avoided by supporters of the ex-President whose contention is that, should there be a final break they and not their opponents will constitute the genuine Republican convention.

According to these unofficial statements, the Roosevelt programme will be this: Should the Credentials Committee uphold the temporary roll adopted by the National Committee and the convention in turn accept the report of the Credentials Committee, thereby finally seating the delegates whom Colonel Roosevelt asserts to have been fraudulently placed on the temporary roll, those of the ex-President's adherents who are willing to stand with him through thick and thin will withdraw from the convention on the instant. The plan as talked of does not contemplate withdrawal of the Roosevelt forces from the Coliseum but the holding of a double-headed convention in the same hall.

As soon as word of the final break is flashed to Colonel Roosevelt over his private wire it was said he will be hurried by automobile to the convention hall to lead the fight in person. It was regarded as probable that the colonel would not go to the convention except under such circumstances. Colonel Roosevelt was said today to have procured enough tickets to the Coliseum to admit him and the members of his immediate party. These tickets, however, would admit him merely as a spectator.

Reports of this plan reached the ears of the authorities in charge of the committee who said tonight that under no circumstances would they permit the holding of two conventions simultaneously in the Coliseum.

The building, they said, was in control of the organization selected by the convention which would preserve order, even to the point of calling upon the police to eject delegates, alternates or spectators who declined to recognize the authority of the chair.

It was explained that the rupture would come, if at all, after the vote on seating the contested delegates rather than on the vote for the Presidential nominees because the Roosevelt faction by awaiting the final vote would be placed in the position of having acted in conjunction with delegates who they contend were chosen fraudulently and of having broken away because they were beaten. Colonel Roosevelt has said all along, it was pointed out, that he was managing his fight for a principle and not for any man, even himself, and that he had stated in his speech of Monday night that he would not accept under any circumstances a vote to seat the delegates whose seats he disputes, even in his own favor.

In an interview with Governor Deneen, Colonel Roosevelt told the Governor in the presence of William Allen White, of Kansas, that should the convention seat these delegates in question he would withdraw from any connection with the convention and that two Republican candidates for President would be nominated with two Republican candidates for Governor in every State in the Union; with two Republican candidates for Congress in each district, and two Republican candidates for every office.

"Make no mistake," he told the Governor. "If these fraudulent delegates are seated we shall walk out of the convention but not out of the hall.

This brought a cheer wave from the Taft folk. W. H. Featherstone, one of the Texas delegates, kept constantly yelling at Devine. This aroused the ire of Senator Root. He walked to the front of the stage again and pointing at Featherstone decared that if delegates did not preserve order "the sergeant-at-arms will be directed to put you out."

Featherstone insisted he was merely trying to correct misstatements. Devine had been attacking the "Cecil Lyon steam roller," in Texas.

Devine concluded with a defense of the National Committee, which brought a great chorus of "boobs," and hisses from the Roosevelt sympathizers.

Calls for Hadley.

The crowd at this juncture began to call for Hadley.

C. C. Littleton, of Texas, a Taft delegate and a brother of Representative Martin W. Littleton, of New York, was introduced by Governor Hadley to say a word of defense for Cecil Lyon. Lyon has built up an organization in Texas against which the gates of hell cannot prevail," he said, as he concluded.

John D. MacKay, a Taft delegates at large from Michigan, asserted that the Roosevelt people were neither open nor fairminded in their consideration of the contests. He told of the "bolt" of the Roosevelt men from the Wayne county convention and defended the regularity of the Michigan delegates at large, contested by the Roosevelt people.

M. L. Galvin, of Kentucky, spoke in behalf of the contested Taft delegates of that State, asserting that the contests were "trumped up for some ulterior purpose."

A round of applause greeted James E. Watson, who concluded the argument against the Hadley motion.

"Now you are not in a position to judge the merits of these controversies," demanded Watson.

A roar of "no" came up from the delegates. Watson was interrupted and there were renewed calls for Hadley. The Governor appeared and was accorded a great demonstration. Both floor and galleries were on their feet, whistling, cheering, yelling, pounding chairs and stamping their feet.

Watson and Root joined in conversation with Hadley as he stood waiting for the wild welcome to cease, but it went on and on. Hats were thrown in the air. One enthusiastic negro delegate raised an umbrella and cast it above his head.

In one corner of the hall Governor Stubbs, of Kansas, waved his arms wildly, leading cheer after cheer.

The California delegation endeavored to put up their Roosevelt banners and start around the hall. But Sergeant-at-arms Stone quickly halted the plan and the banners were taken down.

The Missouri standard was waved on high and in an instant the New Jersey delegates raised their standard and started around the hall.

Missouri, Hadley's home State, followed. Then West Virginia joined the procession.

Hadley for President.

The ovation to Governor Hadley started a running fire of talk on the convention floor to make him the compromise candidate for President.

The Roosevelt people yelled themselves hoarse, while many of the so-called doubtful delegations joined in the cheering.

One of the Ohio delegates grabbed up the standard of that State and marched across the aisle in front of the stage.

California, Nebraska and Kansas were soon in line and the hall became a bedlam of noise.

The first great ovation was fairly underway and they went to it. Governor Hadley retired from his place on the front of the stage and stood beside Senator Root and Mr. Watson at the chairman's table. He smiled broadly.

Oklohamo and Pennsylvania fell into line. Round the big hall came the procession yelling, shrieking, trying to sing, cheering Roosevelt and Hadley.

It took three men to carry each of the heavy standards which had been especially made to prevent such a demonstration.

Some of the California delegation as they went by the speaker's stand, called: "We want Teddy."

A stalwart Kansan, carrying the standard of his State, attempted to thrust it upon the platform, but was pulled back. Missouri's delegates brought their standard with its big iron base up in front of the speaker's stand and did a "grizzly bear" dance there until pushed on by other delegations.

Some of the States found their standards so securely fastened to the floor that all efforts to dislodge them proved futile.

Massachusetts people tugged at theirs for 10 minutes and then broke it. The New York delegates climbed on their chairs when the demonstration had been in progress 17 minutes, but they did so to observe and not to participate.

Want Teddy.

Over in the Kansas delegation a deep throated yell punctuated the demonstration. "We want Teddy," "We want Teddy," came the yell and soon it developed into a deep droning chant that rose above the flood of sound.

California's bear-surmounted pole joined the parade and the Massachusetts delegates hoisted a big black hat on their broken standard.

During the demonstration, Barnes, of New York, said: "I'm not disturbed Reason eventually will be restored."

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, from her seat near the press stand stood up when the demonstration began and looked out over the sea of waving hands. She turned and spoke to Congressman Longworth and he rose also. Mrs. Longworth showed no excitement over the demonstration.

Indiana and New York kept their places directly in front of the platform.

"What about Hadley?" was the insistent cry from a number in the Illinois delegation while others yelled, "We want Teddy."

Mrs. Longworth was leaning over the rail talking with a friend when the chant "We want Teddy" began sounding much like "We want Hadley." She straightened up and waved friends aside to catch the cry, then turned and smiled at her husband.

W. H. Coleman, of the Pennsylvania delegation, dashed to the front of the stage with a megaphone and shouted: "Hadley, the next President. Three cheers."

Coleman leaped up and dov n on the platform, waved his arms and yelled for cheers for Hadley.

He got the cheers, but the sergeant-at-arms got him and he was led off the stage.

Woman Prolongs Demonstration.

Soon after this incident a pretty girl in white in the galleries suddenly stood up and waved a lithograph of Col. Roosevelt. She was immediately the center of attraction. She stood waving the picture in one hand and handkerchief in the other, smiling all the while in the way that commanded admiration.

Finally in her excitement she dropped the picture. But many of the eyes that turned her way lost none of their interest when the Theodore Roosevelt likeness disappeared. The girl herself was a sufficient treat.

Then someone found the picture and returned it to her and the cheering which had died away for the instant was resumed.

The California "Teddy Bear" standard and several State standars were carried to her side.

Reporters made a rush to find who she was. It was Mrs. W. A. Davis, of Chicago.

Old timers said they remembered nothing like this since Minnie Murray, of Iowa, the famous "woman in white" stampeded the Democratic convention in 1896.

As a climax to the demonstration she had helped to prolong, Mrs. Davis was brought to the floor by several delegates and an attempt was made to lift her over the press seats to the stage.

The seargent-at-arms stopped this. But Mrs. Davis, from the press section, led the cheering, still holding her precious picture, and trying to make a speech.

Senator Root made no serious effort to stop the demonstration for a long while. The demonstration had been in progress 40 minutes and Mrs. Davis had disappeared from the floor when Chairman Root finally directed the officers to restore order.

Mrs. Davis, somewhat rumpled, returned to the galleries, was cheered for a moment and then sat down.

Sergeant-at-Arms Stone and Assistant Chief Schuettler, of the police department, patrolling the center aisle, succeeded in getting most of the delegates in their seats by 3:47.

Policemen in the gallery were endeavoring to restore quiet in the vicinity of Mrs. Davis, who had returned to her gallery seat amid another wave of cheers. She withdrew for a moment in the company of an officer, and the crowd hissed what they thought was a forcible removal of the feminine enthusiast.

The Fight Begins.

In a moment she returned to her seat to receive another storm of applause. When quiet had been restored and after Governor Hadley had made a brief statement, Mr. Watson moved to refer to the credentials committee the motion to seat the 92 Roosevelt delegates.

Governor Deneen moved to amend so as to provide that no contested delegates should vote on the membership of the committee on credentials, or on its report. Both motions were applauded.

Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, seconded the motion of Governor Deneen. Mr. Watson moved to table the motion of Governor Deneen.

"No, no," shouted some of the delegates, while some of those in the galleries hissed.

"The motion is not debatable; are you ready for the question?" called Senator Root.

Former Representative Parsons, of New York, asked that the parliamentary situation be explained by a clerk and this was done.

Delegate Flinn, of Pennsylvania, demanded a roll on the motion to table. It was seconded by New Jersey, Missouri and other States, and was ordered by States. The roll was to furnish the second test of the convention and caused much excitement.

The Vote by States.

Chairman Root ordered the delegation polled by name. Governor Johnson was first called and again attempted to cast the solid California vote. The polling of the delegation began. When the names of E. H. Tryon and Morris M. Meyerfield, Jr., the two Taft delegates were called, both answered "aye" from the platform.

Governor Johnson and other members of the California delegation shouted their protest, declaring neither of the contested men was entitled to a vote. The clerk announced the vote as 24 noes and two ayes and so it stood.

In North Carolina the Roosevelt forces gained one vote over yesterday's record.

South Carolina gave the Taft forces 11, Roosevelt six, one not voting. This was loss of one for Roosevelt.

Virginia divided 21 and three as against 22 and two yesterday.

A great deal of interest centered in the action of Wisconsin, which scattered its vote yesterday among anti-Taft candidates. Today the delegation cast all its 26 votes against the Taft motion.

When it was announced that the Taft motion to table had been carried by a vote of 564 to 510, the Taft folk broke into a cheer. The vote on the temporary chairmanship yesterday had been 558 for Root to 502 for Governor McGovern.

Chairman Root's Ruling

Prior to announcing the vote, Chairman Root said that Governor Hadley had made points of order against any of the 92 contested delegates voting and he fully considered the matter during the calling of the roll. He overruled all the points.

"No man," said Senator Root, "can be permitted to vote on the question of his own right to a seat when it is questioned, but this does not disqualify any delegate on the roll of the convention from voting on another man's right to a seat or from participating in any other regular business of the convention:

"Otherwise any minority could secure control of the deliberate body by grouping a sufficient number of their opponents in one motion to give them control of uninstructed delegates."

Senator Root quoted the precedents the the National House of Representatives:

"If this contention were upheld," he added, "enough seats could be contested so that there would be no delegates to do business."

Defeated the Roosevelt forces made no further moves. Senator Root then put the motion of Mr. Watson, made yesterday, that the standing committees be appointed. It was adopted without objection. The names also sent in by the State caucuses were not objected to and the committees were announced.

After the convention committees had been announced and meetings for each scheduled for tonight, the convention adjourned at 5:50 until noon tomorrow.

The poultry industry is making rapid progress and increasing every year, it being a common thing to find two or three hundred fowls on a farm and yet prices of the product keep up. The demand for strictly fresh eggs exceeds the supply, and anyone who furnishes eggs of this kind is assured of a fancy price. With all the increase in the number of hens, the farmer is receiving double the price of ten years ago.

When your baby that is being fed cow's milk gets suddenly sick, ask your dairyman to what other homes in which there are babies is he delivering milk; call up those homes and ask if their baby became sick on the same date that your baby became affected. If you find that the dairyman was furnishing milk to three or four families in which there were babies who became sick on the same date change your dairyman.
